Worst Industrial Plane Mishap

13 Killed As Oil Company Airplane Crashes, Burns

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Thirteen men died in the crash and explosion of a two-engine private airplane on a farm southeast of here Tuesday night. It was the worst industrial aircraft accident in the nation's history.

The twin-engine Lockheed Lodestar, owned by the Ashland Oil & Refining Co., was carrying executives from subsidiary companies in Cleveland and Buffalo to Ashland, Ky. for a sales meeting today.

There were no survivors.

The death toll of 13 exceeded by one the previous high for an industrial aircraft accident — a crash near Shreveport, La. on Jan. 10, 1954. The crash of a Continental Oil Co. plane near Marion, Ohio, on July 1, 1959, took 10 lives.

It was over Lake Milton about 8:30 p.m. when witnessses heard sounds that indicated trouble and saw the plane go into a spin, crashing in bright orange flames that lit the sky.

The tremendous explosion littered Glenn Sickle's 40-acre farm field with human and mechanical wreckage. One piece of the fuselage was found a mile away.

The blast dug a crater five feet deep and about 20 feet in diameter.

Among those the Frontier Oil Co. said boarded the plane at Buffalo were Clayton G. Maxwell, 60, vice president of Frontier; Newton A. Bricka, 43, transportation manager; James A. Mahan Jr., 37, manager of marketing; James Whittaker, 52, assistant manager of Frontier's oil burner division, and Joseph A. Collins, 64, manager of the oil burner division.

An Ashland Oil Co. spokesman said four men from another subsidiary, Allied Oil of Cleveland, also were aboard. They were identified as Jay P. Alexander, 51, executive assistant to the president, Allied Oil; Robert Wulff, 37, manager of retail fuel oil sales; Wayne T. Wiggins, 37, sales manager, and W. H. Parr, fuel oil sales representatives for Allied at Ashtabula, Ohio.

From the home company, there was John W. Drennan, administrative assistant for marketing.

An Ashland accountant, James Goff, 34, was believed also to have been in the group.

He was identified as James Goff, 34.

Chief pilot Blaine Berkstresser was aboard, and copilot Ronald Roberts of Ashland also was scheduled to make the trip.

First on the scene of the crash 18 miles from this northeastern Ohio city was Richard McKenzie, who lives nearby. He said he heard a whistling or screaming noise, somewhat like the noise of a jet plane. He saw the red lights of the plane moving in a spinning pattern, then saw a tremendous crash. Flames shot more than 50 feet above the wreckage, he said.

William Weimer of Youngstown, who was fishing on Lake Milton one mile to the east, estimated the plane's lights were at 400 feet altitude when he heard what sounded like engine trouble.

"It coughed and sputtered, then faded out," he said.

Smoke of the wreckage was thrown onto nearby power lines 50 or 60 feet high, causing a short circuit that left homes in a wide area without power for several minutes.

The plane picked up the Allied people in Cleveland, then flew to Buffalo, and was on its way back to Ashland.

Local authorities roped off the area to keep back crowds of curious and preserve the wreckage for Civil Aeronautics Board investigators to study today.

The worst industrial airplane accident on record was Jan. 10, 1954, near Shreveport, La., when 12 persons died.

Three years ago an industrial airplane (Continental Can Co.) crash near Marion, Ohio, killed 10 persons.

Safeguards Studied On Air Patrols

U.S. May Act To Prevent Violating Soviet Territory

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is considering imposing new safeguards on military patrol flights near the Soviet Union in an attempt to reduce the risk of violating Soviet territory.

The latest in a long series of aerial border incidents flared into world headlines Tuesday when the Soviet Union charged that a U2 reconnaissance aircraft of the type that made sensational history in 1960 had trespassed Soviet territory in the Far East, north of Japan.

Kennedy administration leaders in a reply of unprecedented speed conceded that a U.S. plane—which State Department officials identified as a U2—might have flown unintentionally over Soviet-controlled territory last Thursday.

Officials said today they hoped this speedy concession of possible error would put a quick end to the latest U2 incident and kill any anti-American propaganda buildup Moscow might be planning.

The note to Moscow released here by the State Department only a few hours after Moscow's protest went beyond conceding the possibility of a mistake in navigation due to "severe winds during this nighttime flight."

It made two other points:

1. The policy of barring U2 flights over Soviet territory which was first laid down by President Dwight D. Eisenhower after the 1960 incident and was later confirmed by President Kennedy is still in effect.

2. Precautionary measures intended to prevent accidental trespassing of Soviet air space are being reviewed.

Informed officials said that precautionary measures could include a requirement that patrol flights made in bad weather under difficult flying conditions should follow courses well away from Soviet territory to allow for potential errors in navigation. Strict requirements to keep patrol planes under radar surveillance so that the pilot could check his position accurately might also be laid down.

President Warns Castro Of 'Any Aggressive Act'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has warned that the United States will take "whatever means may be necessary" to prevent Cuba from turning its growing supplies of Soviet arms against any part of the Western Hemisphere.

Kennedy said the Soviet Union has provided the Castro regime with a variety of military equipment, including short-range missiles and torpedo boats.

But he added there was no evidence of any organized combat force in Cuba from any Communist bloc country or any significant buildup of Cuban offensive capabilities.

"Were it otherwise, the gravest issues would arise," said Kennedy.

He declared:

"It continues to be the policy of the United States that the Castro regime will not be allowed to export its aggressive purposes by force or threat of force.

"It will be prevented by whatever means may be necessary from taking action against any part of the Western hemisphere."

Kennedy's statement, giving new details on the current Russian shipments to Cuba, was issued by the White House Tuesday night after the President and top aides conferred for an hour with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara were slated to brief a joint meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees on the situation today.

Kennedy's announcement appeared to have a multiple purpose —to keep the public informed, to tell Castro and the Kremlin to keep hands off the rest of the Americas, and to offset domestic criticism urging more drastic action against Cuba.

Administration officials have reported previously that more than 30 vessels carrying communications gear, weapons, economic aid and technicians have been arriving in Cuba in a massive wave of Soviet assistance which began late in July.

Kennedy said further information in the last four days establishes that the Russian shipments include:

1. Antiaircraft defense missiles, similar to early models of the American Nike, having a slant range of 25 miles. (The Soviets have supplied similar surface-to-air missiles in past aid to Iraq and Indonesia.)

2. Several torpedo boats carrying ship-to-ship guided missiles having a 15-mile range.

3. Approximately 3,500 "Soviet military technicians" — an increase above previous official U.S. estimates of the number of military specialists arriving from the bloc.

Board's Bid To Sell Firm Seen Futile

Stock Owners Will Meet Sept. 13 To Decide Plant's Fate

Stockholders of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. have received notice of a special meeting Thursday, Sept. 13, at 2 p. m. in the company's office at Newell to vote on accepting or rejecting a plan for liquidating the corporation.

The letter revealed that the shareholders at their annual meeting on March 20 authorized the Board of Directors to sell the corporation. Unable to secure a purchaser, the board voted unanimously Aug. 21 to recommend to the stockholders that the corporation be dissolved and its assets be liquidated, the letter said.

Continuing Losses Cited

Continuing operating losses made the action appear desirable because it seems unlikely the operation will become profitable in the foreseeable future, the letter to the stockholders said. It was signed by Roger A. Hall, as secretary of the corporation.

"This action is deemed desirable and necessary by the Board of Directors because of the continuing operating losses being suffered by the corporation," the letter said.

"Due to the present tariff policies, which encourage increasing imports of foreign dinnerware produced with low labor costs, it does not seem possible for the operation of the company to become profitable in the foreseeable future."

The 63-year-old company employes approximately 400 to 500. It was established at Chester about 1900 by Edwin M. Knowles, a son of Isaac Watt Knowles, founder of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles Co.

Product of Quality

He erected a six-kiln plant in Chester, which he named the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., and "soon won fame for the quality of his product," according to contemporary newspaper accounts.

In 1913, Knowles erected a 15-kiln factory at Newell. The Chester plant was sold about 1930 to the Harker Pottery Co.

Here's the text of the letter sent to the stockholders:

"You are hereby notified that a special meeting of the shareholders of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. will be held at the office of the corporation at Newell on Sept. 13, 1962, at 2 p. m. to consider and approve or disapprove a plan of liquidation of the corporation and the subsequent dissolution of the corporation. A copy of the proposed plan of liquidation is enclosed herewith.

Wellsville Wage Tax Move 'Dies'

The possibility of a wage tax in Wellsville apparently has gone down the drain, despite efforts by Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman.

Miller proposed the tax over a month ago, urging the other Council members to consider the method as a way of putting the city back on its feet financially.

He has reviewed the city's financial picture from the floor and presented other data in an effort to sway the other members, but all to no avail.

MILLER BROUGHT the proposal to a head at Council's meeting Tuesday night by offering a motion for legislation for an eight-tenths of one per cent wage tax. It died for lack of a second.

He said that if the proposal were adopted, those opposing the measure could circulate referendum petitions to halt the collection and then each resident could vote on the issue at the polls.

Miller started his discussion last night by reporting on a meeting with the County Budget Commission at Lisbon. He said the entire county is in need of additional funds. He also pointed out that down through the years the city has completely overlooked the fact that a certain percentage of its money was withheld by the county for election costs, intangible taxes, etc., as a fee for collection.

THIS AMOUNT always was figured in the appropriation but never collected, he said. As an example, he said the city's budget this year totaled $127,000, but the city will only receive about $120,000. He said this will be corrected in the future and figured in on the budgets.

He said the only way out for the city at present "is to keep on writing checks and go into the red or to put on some kind of a tax."

"Council had better buckle down and decide which way it's going to go," he said.

He then presented the motion for the income tax.

Councilman William Stroble said "I feel personally we are jumping the gun" and should hold up a discussion until the end of the year when the books are audited.

Miller said there is $4,000 left in the general fund with a city payroll to meet Sept. 18. "This will take care of the $4,000, then where do we go?," he asked.

Councilman Robert Taggart suggested a tighter control on water bills and a better collection system. Miller said this would not put money into the general fund, but agreed a more strict collection should be made.

Taggart also suggested cutting the police force down to the use of one cruiser. He said there are numerous ways to reduce expenses.

During a lengthy discussion that followed, Mayor William Daugherty pointed out the appropriations show during the past years that the city is operating on less money this year than it ever has. He said "it is common sense that cuts have been made."

Miller said there is no money in the water depreciation fund for repairing the standpipe. Stroble suggested changing the depreciation legislation to allow the use of some of the funds set aside for repairs outside the city limits.

This was ordered. Miller asked that all councilmen be invited to the next budget or appropriation session. He said "perhaps they will have a different point of view if fully aware of the financial picture."

Gas Rate Plan Turned Down At Wellsville

Council President Breaks Tie, Defeats Proposed Increase

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night turned down a gas rate proposal presented by the Ohio Valley Gas Co., but it is expected to be presented again at the next meeting.

Legislation accepting the new rate proposal was put up for first reading on a motion by Councilman Donald Miller and seconded by Councilman Robert Taggart.

A tie vote was then cast with Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, voting against the measure, defeating it 4-3.

Councilmen Miller, Taggart and Frank DeLonzo favored the legislation while Councilmen Allen Baldwin, Mrs. Kay Drago and William Stroble were opposed. Councilman Dwight MacLean was absent.

B. W. Cox of Steubenville, a special representative for the utility, asked what Council now planned to do and was told by Miller he would present the legislation on the floor again at the next meeting.

Taggart commented he had spent some time considering the proposal and believes it is the proper way to handle the situa-

Mariner's Path Changed, Streaking Toward Venus

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The United States' Mariner 2 spacecraft streaked toward Venus today after changing to a new course scientists say will take it within 9,000 miles of the mystery planet.

The course change was made Tuesday in a spectacular maneuver 1.5 million miles from earth.

Aboard the 447-pound vehicle are instruments that may tell whether life could exist on Venus, virtually a twin of earth in size.

If these instruments work as designed during a 30-minute fly-by Dec. 14, Mariner 2 will score a significant first in space for this country. The Soviet Union's Venus probe last year missed the cloud-shrouded planet by 62,000 miles —and its radios were dead.

An electronic whiff of Venus is all U.S. scientists ask of Mariner 2. Unsterilized, it was never intended to impact Venus but to miss it by 10,000 miles and go on into a giant orbit around the sun.

The 12 - foot - tall spacecraft, launched Aug. 25 from Cape Canaveral, Fla., went through the intricate maneuver to overcome a bad start. A rolling motion by its Atlas-Agena booster during liftoff sent Mariner 223,000 miles off course.

Scientists at the U.S. space agency's Jet Propulsion Laboratory here spent days measuring the amount of error. Then, at 3:49 p.m. Tuesday they started sending a series of radio messages that commanded the spacecraft to point its nose in a different direction and then fire a small liquid fuel rocket in its tail. This sent Mariner 2 streaking toward Venus at a speed of 6,687 miles per hour.

"Everything worked just as designed," the Mariner project manager Jack James, exultantly told a news conference.

County Home Levy Sought In Fall Vote

LISBON — A resolution to submit a seven-tenths mill levy in the November 6 general election for a new hospital wing at the Columbiana County Home and for repairs to the home was approved by a majority of the commissioners at a meeting Tuesday.

Republican Commissioners Galen Greenisen and Walter A. Hunston voted for the resolution, while Commissioner Frank Wilson, Democrat, abstained.

Wilson said this morning he did not vote on the measure because he believes it is inadequate. "We need a new home," he declared, adding he doesn't believe the levy would provide the proper remedies to the problems the home faces.

The two GOP commissioners said 90 per cent of the home's residents require hospital care, and another 50-bed hospital would meet the needs.

The measure, which would be for three years, would bring in an estimated $140,000 annually

Spy Ordered Deported In British Move

LONDON (AP)—Britain today rejected Robert A. Soblen's final plea for clemency and ordered the fugitive spy deported to the United States "as soon as practicable."

His deportation probably will take place Thursday but the time has not been announced.

Soblen, who faces a life sentence in the United States for wartime spying for the Soviet Union, has been on the run since June.

He jumped $100,000 bail, fled to Tel Aviv, was expelled from Israel and landed in Britain July 1 after slashing himself while aboard the Israeli airliner that was flying him to New York.

British courts four times rejected the 61-year-old psychiatrist's pleas that he should be allowed to remain here or at least be allowed to go to some other country of his choice. Communist Czechoslovakia offered him a visa, it was reported.

In a final effort to avoid deportation, Soblen's lawyers this week presented Home Secretary Henry Brooke with a 20-page memorandum arguing Soblen's case.

All members of Local 141 regular meeting scheduled for Sept. 13, is canceled. Next regular meeting Sept. 6, at Room 4, IBOP Hall, 6th St. Matter of grave importance to be discussed, concerning wage policy convention. All members asked to attend by order of president.—Adv.

Western Beaver Schools To Begin Classes Sept. 17

Over 1,500 students are expected to attend classes when the Western Beaver County School District starts the new term Sept. 17.

About 650 will enroll at the new $1,952,000 junior - senior high school at Industry, and 860 at the three elementary buildings. Two kindergarten sessions will also be held for the first time. The new school has a capacity of 744, according to Frank A. Meredith, supervising principal.

—:—

SERVING Industry, Ohioville and Glasgow, the new school will be equipped with the latest in educational equipment and materials.

The tardy bell will ring at 8:20 a. m. with the academic day beginning at 8:34 through eight periods to 3:30 p. m.

Classes in the elementary schools will begin at 9 a.m. They previously started at 8:30 a. m. School will be in session until 3 p. m.

ALL SIXTH grades will attend the Ray W. Snyder School this year, and classes will be departmentalized. Students who will be in Grade 5, who would have attended the Logan School, will attend the Snyder School this year as the Logan School will house only Grades 1-4.

Also, students who would have attended Grade 3 and 4 at the Industry School will attend the Snyder School. There will still be a combination Grades 1 and 2 at the Industry building.

In addition to Miss Florence Laneve, kindergarten teacher, other new members of the elementary faculty are Miss Maxine Graham, fifth grade at Snyder building,

2 Women Injured In Wellsville Wreck

Two women were injured in a two-car crash at the intersection of 17th and Commerce Sts., Wellsville, Tuesday at 5:40 p. m.

Police said a car driven by Mrs. Helen Kalb of Akron went through the intersection and was struck on the right side by a car driven by Gary Call, 425 18th St., Wellsville.

Mrs. Kalb was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. She was fined $25 and costs at a hearing last night before Mayor William Daugherty.

Mrs. Frances E. Hennessy, 72, of Akron, a passenger in the car driven by her daugher, was X-rayed at City Hospital for a right shoulder injury.

Mrs. Cora Brettell of Mingo Junction, also a passenger in the Kalb car, was treated for contusions of the right ribs.

Due to sensational response, "The Interns" will be held over for the third big week. Mgr., State Theater.—Adv.

No Second To Motion

Wellsville Wage Tax Move 'Dies'

The possibility of a wage tax in Wellsville apparently has gone down the drain, despite efforts by Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman.

Miller proposed the tax over a month ago, urging the other Council members to consider the method as a way of putting the city back on its feet financially.

He has reviewed the city's financial picture from the floor and presented other data in an effort to sway the other members, but all to no avail.

MILLER BROUGHT the proposal to a head at Council's meeting Tuesday night by offering a motion for legislation for an eight-tenths of one per cent wage tax. It died for lack of a second.

He said that if the proposal were adopted, those opposing the measure could circulate referendum petitions to halt the collection and then each resident could vote on the issue at the polls.

Miller started his discussion last night by reporting on a meeting with the County Budget Commission at Lisbon. He said the entire county is in need of additional funds. He also pointed out that down through the years the city has completely overlooked the fact that a certain percentage of its money was withheld by the county for election costs, intangible taxes, etc., as a fee for collection.

THIS AMOUNT always was figured in the appropriation but never collected, he said. As an example, he said the city's budget this year totaled $127,000, but the city will only receive about $120,000. He said this will be corrected in the future and figured in on the budgets.

He said the only way out for the city at present "is to keep on writing checks and go into the red or to put on some kind of a tax."

"Council had better buckle down and decide which way it's going to go," he said.

He then presented the motion for the income tax.

Councilman William Stroble said "I feel personally we are jumping the gun" and should hold up a discussion until the end of the year when the books are audited.

Miller said there is $4,000 left in the general fund with a city payroll to meet Sept. 18. "This will take care of the $4,000, then where do we go?," he asked.

Councilman Robert Taggart suggested a tighter control on water bills and a better collection system. Miller said this would not put money into the general fund, but agreed a more strict collection should be made.

Taggart also suggested cutting the police force down to the use of one cruiser. He said there are numerous ways to reduce expenses.

During a lengthy discussion that followed, Mayor William Daugherty pointed out the appropriations show during the past years that the city is operating on less money this year than it ever has. He said "it is common sense that cuts have been made."

Miller said there is no money in the water depreciation fund for repairing the standpipe. Stroble suggested changing the depreciation legislation to allow the use of some of the funds set aside for repairs outside the city limits.

This was ordered. Miller asked that all councilmen be invited to the next budget or appropriation session. He said "perhaps they will have a different point of view if fully aware of the financial picture."

Gas Rate Plan Turned Down At Wellsville

Council President Breaks Tie, Defeats Proposed Increase

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night turned down a gas rate proposal presented by the Ohio Valley Gas Co., but it is expected to be presented again at the next meeting.

Legislation accepting the new rate proposal was put up for first reading on a motion by Councilman Donald Miller and seconded by Councilman Robert Taggart.

A tie vote was then cast with Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, voting against the measure, defeating it 4-3.

Councilmen Miller, Taggart and Frank DeLonzo favored the legislation while Councilmen Allen Baldwin, Mrs. Kay Drago and William Stroble were opposed. Councilman Dwight MacLean was absent.

B. W. Cox of Steubenville, a special representative for the utility, asked what Council now planned to do and was told by Miller he would present the legislation on the floor again at the next meeting.

Taggart commented he had spent some time considering the proposal and believes it is the proper way to handle the situa-

Board's Bid To Sell Firm Seen Futile

Stock Owners Will Meet Sept. 13 To Decide Plant's Fate

Stockholders of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. have received notice of a special meeting Thursday, Sept. 13, at 2 p. m. in the company's office at Newell to vote on accepting or rejecting a plan for liquidating the corporation.

The letter revealed that the shareholders at their annual meeting on March 20 authorized the Board of Directors to sell the corporation. Unable to secure a purchaser, the board voted unanimously Aug. 21 to recommend to the stockholders that the corporation be dissolved and its assets be liquidated, the letter said.

Continuing Losses Cited

Continuing operating losses made the action appear desirable because it seems unlikely the operation will become profitable in the foreseeable future, the letter to the stockholders said. It was signed by Roger A. Hall, as secretary of the corporation.

"This action is deemed desirable and necessary by the Board of Directors because of the continuing operating losses being suffered by the corporation," the letter said.

"Due to the present tariff policies, which encourage increasing imports of foreign dinnerware produced with low labor costs, it does not seem possible for the operation of the company to become profitable in the foreseeable future."

The 63-year-old company employes approximately 400 to 500. It was established at Chester about 1900 by Edwin M. Knowles, a son of Isaac Watt Knowles, founder of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles Co.

Product of Quality

He erected a six-kiln plant in Chester, which he named the Edwin M. Knowles China Co., and "soon won fame for the quality of his product," according to contemporary newspaper accounts.

In 1913, Knowles erected a 15-kiln factory at Newell. The Chester plant was sold about 1930 to the Harker Pottery Co.

Here's the text of the letter sent to the stockholders:

"You are hereby notified that a special meeting of the shareholders of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. will be held at the office of the corporation at Newell on Sept. 13, 1962, at 2 p. m. to consider and approve or disapprove a plan of liquidation of the corporation and the subsequent dissolution of the corporation. A copy of the proposed plan of liquidation is enclosed herewith.

Sale Is Authorized

2 Women Injured In Wellsville Wreck

Two women were injured in a two-car crash at the intersection of 17th and Commerce Sts., Wellsville, Tuesday at 5:40 p. m.

Police said a car driven by Mrs. Helen Kalb of Akron went through the intersection and was struck on the right side by a car driven by Gary Call, 425 18th St., Wellsville.

Mrs. Kalb was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way. She was fined $25 and costs at a hearing last night before Mayor William Daugherty.

Mrs. Frances E. Hennessy, 72, of Akron, a passenger in the car driven by her daugher, was X-rayed at City Hospital for a right shoulder injury.

Mrs. Cora Brettell of Mingo Junction, also a passenger in the Kalb car, was treated for contusions of the right ribs.

Due to sensational response, "The Interns" will be held over for the third big week. Mgr., State Theater.—Adv.

Even Worse Than Invasion

It is unpleasant to doubt that Cubans misruling their country know what they're talking about when they spread rumors of invasion.

It would be best if the rumors were true.

If Cuba must be kept safe from foreign colonization by force, which has been the policy of the United States since early in the 19th century, foreign colonizers should have been driven out before they had time to dig in.

It is not pleasant to think the troublemakers will have the privilege of strengthening themselves to a point that will give the United States a real battle when it does what will have to be done unless they leave of their own accord.

THE CHALLENGE to Washington's spirit of resoluteness is not in Berlin, where American troops and their allies are living under the guns and missiles of the Russians. It is in Cuba, where Russians, Chinese and assorted communist infiltrators are carrying on their dirty work under the guns and missiles of the United States.

It is as if the front and back doors and the windows were being guarded when the intruder already was inside the house. Cuba is inside the house—only 90 miles from the continental United States.

The crisis shaping up there would seem to explain why so many Russian surface craft have been spotted in the Atlantic recently. There presumably have been many underseas craft there too.

Russia is probably getting ready for supporting action if and when Cuba is invaded by the United States.

ONLY ONE THING could be worse from the Russian point of view than an outright invasion that would obligate Moscow to support Cuban resistance.

That would be the continued disintegration of the Cuban economy with no invasion—no excuse to cover up the collapse of Cuba with a military free-for-all.

If this happened and if it were aggravated by embargoes enforced by watchful patrols and backed up by strong policies on the part of all noncommunist nations, Fidel Castro's experiment in betrayal would flounder until it died of exhaustion.

John Foster Dulles used to believe socialism's downfall was its inability to stand the test of time. His proposition may have a chance to prove itself in Cuba if the gunfire holds off long enough.

Sworn On A Stack Of Old Platforms

But Not Entirely Democratic

Political campaigning gets under way in earnest once Labor Day is out of the way. The idea this year, as in all years, is to discover and develop issues on which voters can divide themselves for the purpose of making choices.

This is the way we govern ourselves—by this haphazard method of choosing up sides between the ins and the outs. In Michigan, for instance, voters are going to divide themselves largely on the issue of George Romney, the industrialist, who is Republican candidate for governor against the Democratic incumbent, John B. Swainson.

Gov. Swainson is the choice of Walter Reuther, president of United Auto Workers. He has the backing of Michigan's powerful unionists in their main powerhouse, Wayne County (Detroit), where Democrats packed together a 378,842 majority for John F. Kennedy over Richard M. Nixon in 1960. That was almost two to one.

During the AFL-CIO Labor Day celebration in Detroit this year, candidate Romney was treated as an outsider and, shrewdly, he made the most of the snub. All the speakers were Democrats. The president of the Wayne County AFL-CIO said the attempt to let the Republican candidate for governor share the platform with the Democratic candidate was an affront to laboring people.

Candidate Romney didn't seem to be impressed. He had no reason to be. Despite that crushing 378,842 majority for Kennedy in Wayne County in 1960, Michigan barely squeaked into the Kennedy column. What happened in Michigan? Almost the same thing that happened in Ohio, which missed being in the Kennedy column by a thumping 273,000 votes because the Cuyahoga County Democratic bosses couldn't offset free votes elsewhere in the state.

Candidate Romney may very well end up in this campaign year running against Walter Reuther instead of John Swainson—with a fair chance of winning. Not in Wayne County, of course, but in Michigan, where winning counts.

A Sales Story

More complaints have been heard from district housewives about the shady business practices of some transient salesman.

It's an old story — the sales promises and the final accounting fail to coincide. Because of misrepresentation, gullible housewives generally are left holding the bag, with the experience a costly one in many cases.

This is not to condemn all transient salesmen. There are far more honest ones than there are dishonest. The latter, however, make it rough on the others.

If there's any doubt as to the reliability of a salesman or his product, investigate before signing on the dotted line. A call to the Chamber of Commerce offices is one sure way of getting sound advice.

Money is too valuable to be thrown away because of a smooth - talking salesman.

The Contempt Is Mutual

Senate Democrats on the subcommittee that had summoned 12 large steel companies to appear before it have cited for contempt of Congress officers of four companies who refused to show up.

Their "contempt" was not for Congress as a whole but for a particular subcommittee of the Senate whose chairman, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, has made no secret of his support for the practice of federal price control by publicity.

The steel industry as a whole is opposed to price control, though only four of 12 major companies have gone to the mat with the Senate subcommittee that moved last April to make political capital of the industry's unsuccessful effort to raise prices.

Its announcement then of an investigation of steel production costs was intended to convey the idea that costs did not justify the proposed price increases and were abandoned after the Kennedy administration had made threats of exposure and legal action.

Whether the threats or the refusal of some steel producers to go along with a price boost caused the price-raising companies to change their minds is a moot question. It probably was some of each.

But when Sen. Kefauver moved into the picture there was no moot question about him. He had seen another chance to show hostility to a pricing system that keeps would-be federal price-fixers at arm's length.

Republic Steel, Bethlehem, Armco and National are the four recalcitrants. Their officers are willing to take the rap in a battle that pits private enterprise against federal control. The issue is whether anything that comes to the mind of a member of Congress is a proper subject for a congressional investigation and whether thereafter any record or any information desired must be furnished, on threat of being cited for contempt of Congress.

In other words, when someone representing Congress shows contempt for the rights of citizens how far can they go in reciprocating?

Summer Has Had It

By Truman Twill

I take issue with the idea that the best part of life ends with summer.

Perhaps to say so marks me as a traitor, but I can get as fed up with summer as I can with winter.

I get fed up with bugs and drought and limping along with gaps in the office lineup because somebody's on vacation and nothing can be done until they get back.

I get fed up with weeds, sucking insects and musty odors in the house; with excessive humidity and going to bed panting with heat and waking up in the middle of the night shivering with cold.

Finally there comes a time when all of us realize that summer has had it, that there is a time for all things to end and summer is going from bad to worse, so ring down the curtain.

It is not the best part of life that ends with summer but only the best part of summer. What started out to be the best of all summers has turned into the tag-end of one more summer, with Japanese beetles, drought, wilt and the sere of the leaf in conspicuous profusion.

There are more important things than to cling to something that's already dead and gone, except for a few more weeks of going.

It's time to shuck off those summer outfits that will be good for a thousand laughs in snapshots in years to come.

It's time to dry out the house and shrink the doors so they will shut — time to get rid of the red ants that have spent the summer on the kitchen drainboards — time to dig in and earn some money to balance what was overspent.

Who wants to spend the next eight months bathed in perspiration and disguised in sun glasses? Who wants to see any more bulbous females peeled down to the unshapely nub because semi-nudity can be justified by the pursuit of comfort in summertime?

Who wants to see any more hairy apes in shorts, or more pictures of fish, or more color slides of the view from the place where someone stayed overnight, or more happy vacationers passing through town on their way to places where they may not like the water anyway?

And what fun would it be to hack away at golf interminably, or fiddle with a boat, or dawdle at poolside month after month, or slam screen doors, or live in out-of-the-way places, or sit in wicker furniture, or scratch cigger bites;

Or spray insecticide, pick green burrs out of a dog's ruff, hoe beans, pick flowers, work outside until 8, imbibe summer beverages, eat charcoal-grilled meat, be deep-tanned and live easy?

Summer has had it.

Ring the school bell.

Buy firewood.

Buy tire chains, snow shovels and galoshes. Excitement is in the way.

Labor To Drive For 35-Hour Week

By Victor Riesel

A few minutes before the President of the United States telephoned Arthur Goldberg to inform him of his appointment to the Supreme Court, Mr. Goldberg and I were discussing labor's critical drive for a 35-hour week with no loss in pay and double time for overtime.

Victor Riesel

The President, among other things, told Goldberg:

"Arthur, you are still very indispensable to me. But I don't know when I'll have another opportunity to make an appointment and I don't way to deny you."

Those were not mere words of flattery. Goldberg—and his most unique talents and old friendships—goes to the high bench at a moment when the nation's labor leaders are about to unleash their most hard-hitting series of drives in 25 years.

Most hard-hitting will be the campaign for the shorter work week. Make no mistake, this will have great impact on our economy and the economy of the world.

There are many who believe that labor's high command passed a mere resolution at their recent Chicago meeting—and now will forget it.

THEY WON'T. They're serious. I have just spoken to four of labor's top policy makers. Among them is the veteran leader who prevailed on his colleagues to launch the campaign now—the man who formulated much of the strategy.

Bluntly he said that labor expects to shave the work week down to 35 hours in the "next two or three years." His strategy is first to fight for 37½ hours a week. Then 35. Then, "fewer hours if necessary to really share the work available in the United States."

All national and international unions have been notified by Washington headquarters to put the shorter work week demand on the agenda for their next bargaining sessions. Already word has come from unions of firefighters, pants makers, Chicago pullman car porters, building service workers and millions of construction workers.

The latter include the men who build and operate our missile and outer space shooting ranges.

Virtually everybody but New York unionists and their employers appear to have forgotten that the official five-hour day has been in operation in the big city electrical construction field since last July 1.

The other day "The Shorter Workweek and Automation Committee of the New York City Central Labor Council" met in Southampton, L.I. (New York).

ITS LEADERS, who include many national figures, said that, "a recent survey revealed that most New York area unions have already placed the shorter work week on their bargaining agenda for the year."

"We will intensify," said the committee leader, Dave Sullivan, national head of the Building Service Employes Union, "our program of activity on behalf of the shorter work week and will be glad to cooperate with the AFL-CIO Executive Council Committee and task force which George Meany has set up."

One national labor leader told me that he had outlined his strategy recently to Goldberg in the following terms:

"At first we will not ask for heavy wage increases. We'll ask for fewer hours. Let us say that a man earns $80 a week. In the ordinary course of contract renewal he would, say, get an $8 increase over a period of time. What we would do is say to the employers, give us only two dollars more. That would make the pay $82 instead of $88. But give us a 37½ hour week. If times are good, there will be overtime to make up the money difference anyway.

"Then at the next contract rounds, the demand would be for 35 hours with a slight increase in pay. Eventually, however, the wage would increase and the employes would have both a higher wage and a lower work week."

THE WHITE HOUSE will buck this strategy. It feels that the steel industry can't afford a 35-hour week. It believes that such a schedule would hurt the auto industry. If these industries—whose contracts come up in the next two and three years—should suffer, all America's economy will, too. That is the position of John Kennedy and Arthur Goldberg.

But it is not the belief of the national labor chiefs. They'll make a fight for it, in Congress and across the bargaining tables. They are preparing now. They will start after the first of the year, after the election.

When the 35-hour week campaign gets under way the President will indeed remember his words to Arthur Goldberg on the afternoon of Tuesday, Aug. 28. The new justice's talents will be missed. There will be a hoe-down—and it won't be merry.

Odd Facts

Probably the first man to tell anyone to "go fly a kite" was an 18th - century Scottish scientist and weather bureaus complied with his idea for 230 years. In 1700, Dr. Alexander Wilson of Glasgow attached a thermometer to a kite in the first successful attempt to forecast the weather by kite-flying. The U. S. Weather Bureau used kites to predict weather until 1930, when it changed to high-altitude weather balloons.

Pre-Election Activity Reviewed

If the presidents of all employer organizations in the country were to make speeches telling their employes that business would get better if fewer pro - Kennedy Democrats were elected to Congress this November, the howl that would go up from labor leaders would be heard from coast to coast.

David Lawrence

Yet George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, issued a Labor Day message calling on the 17 million members of the trade unions throughout the country to elect a Congress that will support the Democratic party's President on domestic issues.

This means that all local union presidents in every community now have been given the signal to go ahead and do everything they can to influence the union members to vote as the top men in the AFL-CIO want them to do.

Federal laws do not prohibit either employers or union leaders from trying to tell workers how to vote but employers have been reluctant to do this.

They have accepted on its face the fact that the law which prohibits any "contribution" for a political purpose by a labor union or a corporation or a business defines "contribution," as used in the statue, as "anything of value."

The courts have been vague in recent years and have ruled, for instance, that money spent on electioneering in newspapers published by unions is merely "free speech." Likewise, union officials, while continuing on union pay rolls, give their time freely to auxiliary organizations which do the money raising among union members during political campaigns.

The sums raised are equal to if not larger than the total amounts collected by the Democratic National Committee in national campaigns.

BUSINESS EXECUTIVES connected with large corporations likewise volunteer their time and services to campaign activities, including fund raising but no large companies have ventured to use their house organs — magazines or newspapers — for direct appeals to their employes to vote for a particular political party or its candidates.

There is no way of telling how much pressure union officers in local unions exert upon the membership to get them to vote a certain way. Many workers are fearful of reprisals if they don't do as the union bosses instruct them to do.

While the union members generally realize the ballot is secret, they fear punishment just the same—often from shop stewards or foremen who have the power to withhold small favors from employes they don't like.

This is because the element of compulsion in unionism has gone so far that, in many industries, a man who doesn't join the union cannot in most instances keep his job. Also, the employer usually will not retain him unless he supports the union financially by fees or dues.

This is compelled as a consequence of contracts entered into by employers with unions in order to prevent strikes or work stoppages.

Likewise, in many lines of work, unless the would-be employe is already a member of the union, he has difficulty getting a job. This is true, for instance, in certain unions in the theatrical and film business, as well as in the printing trades and in many of the construction industries. Also, the number of apprentices in various industries is virtually limited by tacit agreement between employers and unions.

The American people are not yet fully aware of how far compulsory membership in the labor union or its equivalent has gone in free America. This phase of "civil rights" gets little attention, and there are no demonstrations like those in Albany, Ga., to emphasize the segregation of union from non - union members in the opportunities for employment throughout the United States.

MR. MEANY, speaking as head of the AFL-CIO, has just denounced a public opinion survey recently conducted by the Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, N.J., which revealed that people generally are opposed to compulsory labor union membership. He called the poll "rigged" because it asked the question whether Americans should be forced to join any "church, union, or political organization." He said that "to equate membership in a trade union with a man's religious or political beliefs . . . is not only dishonest but malicious."

But the persons who answered question in the nationwide poll could readily have refused to lump the three categories together. The nature of the answers actually showed that the citizens polled understood this and other related questions. Thus, in the same poll, while 93 per cent agreed that no American should be forced to join any church, union, or political organization, 79 per cent, in answering a specific question, expressed approval of the right to organize in unions and bargain collectively.

SIMILARLY, 60 per cent said unions have grown large enough or are too large now, and 52 per cent agreed that there were union monopolies today. To cope with this problem, 71 per cent of the citizens polled said they favored a law to prevent unions from shutting down whole industries. Sixty-nine per cent favored anti-trust laws to control union monopolies, while 64 per cent favored closer governmental regulation of labor unions.

As for the state laws which prohibit compulsory union membership, the AFL-CIO leaders seek the election of more Democrats to Congress this year so as to bring about the early passage of a federal law that at one fell swoop would repeal the "right to work" laws of all the 19 states which have them now. That's the big prize the union-labor leaders seek to win in the congressional election.

Europe's Ancient Chiefs

By Richard Spong

Konrad Adenauer was born on Jan. 4, 1876. Charles de Gaulle was born on Nov. 22, 1890. These are two of the most essential facts about what is beginning to be called the New Europe.

Chancellor Adenauer is affectionately known as Der Alte—the old one. While still vigorous, of recent years he has been taking progressively longer vacations in Italy.

For all his ramrod austerity, his powers inevitably are failing. In any event, part of the bargain made last November which enabled him to be reelected was that he would resign next year.

De Gaulle looks as grand and stern and strong as president as he did as general. But in a nation as rent as France has been by the Algerian crisis, anything can happen, as the world was grimly reminded by the most recent assassination attempt. De Gaulle is notoriously careless of his personal safety, despite the constant presence of his hulking personal guards.

SHOULD EITHER De Gaulle or Adenauer be removed from the scene strange things could happen.

West Germany seems to be following a steady course. The Social Democratic opposition to Adenauer's Christian Democrats has left Marxist dogma far behind and huddled ever closer to the center. But no heir to Adenauer is apparent.

Within Adenauer's own Christian Democratic party Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard seems the most likely successor, but Franz Joseph Strauss, minister of defense, is a possibility. Most certainly Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin and the Social Democratic candidate last autumn, is a man of the future.

After De Gaulle, the deluge, or so it now would appear. There is no Frenchman today who seems to have a strong enough personal following, or more important, a sufficiently widely based political organization, to steer the nation through the maelstrom.

De Gaulle has been even less generous than Adenauer in favoring his lieutenants or delegating authority. Without him France might be a fair way on toward anarchy.

Moreover, France has little of the cohesiveness the effort of post-war reconstruction has brought to Germany. As the Reynolds News of London pointed out only the other day, De Gaulle's kingdom embraces the France of the great industrialists and financiers, a hard-faced bunch who are among the most reactionary capitalists in Europe, the France of the discontented peasants and small tradesmen, and the France of the reckless officers and Algerian gunmen.

Even Worse Than Invasion

It is unpleasant to doubt that Cubans misruling their country know what they're talking about when they spread rumors of invasion.

It would be best if the rumors were true.

If Cuba must be kept safe from foreign colonization by force, which has been the policy of the United States since early in the 19th century, foreign colonizers should have been driven out before they had time to dig in.

It is not pleasant to think the troublemakers will have the privilege of strengthening themselves to a point that will give the United States a real battle when it does what will have to be done unless they leave of their own accord.

THE CHALLENGE to Washington's spirit of resoluteness is not in Berlin, where American troops and their allies are living under the guns and missiles of the Russians. It is in Cuba, where Russians, Chinese and assorted communist infiltrators are carrying on their dirty work under the guns and missiles of the United States.

It is as if the front and back doors and the windows were being guarded when the intruder already was inside the house. Cuba is inside the house—only 90 miles from the continental United States.

The crisis shaping up there would seem to explain why so many Russian surface craft have been spotted in the Atlantic recently. There presumably have been many underseas craft there too.

Russia is probably getting ready for supporting action if and when Cuba is invaded by the United States.

ONLY ONE THING could be worse from the Russian point of view than an outright invasion that would obligate Moscow to support Cuban resistance.

That would be the continued disintegration of the Cuban economy with no invasion—no excuse to cover up the collapse of Cuba with a military free-for-all.

If this happened and if it were aggravated by embargoes enforced by watchful patrols and backed up by strong policies on the part of all noncommunist nations, Fidel Castro's experiment in betrayal would flounder until it died of exhaustion.

John Foster Dulles used to believe socialism's downfall was its inability to stand the test of time. His proposition may have a chance to prove itself in Cuba if the gunfire holds off long enough.

But Not Entirely Democratic

Political campaigning gets under way in earnest once Labor Day is out of the way. The idea this year, as in all years, is to discover and develop issues on which voters can divide themselves for the purpose of making choices.

This is the way we govern ourselves—by this haphazard method of choosing up sides between the ins and the outs. In Michigan, for instance, voters are going to divide themselves largely on the issue of George Romney, the industrialist, who is Republican candidate for governor against the Democratic incumbent, John B. Swainson.

Gov. Swainson is the choice of Walter Reuther, president of United Auto Workers. He has the backing of Michigan's powerful unionists in their main powerhouse, Wayne County (Detroit), where Democrats packed together a 378,842 majority for John F. Kennedy over Richard M. Nixon in 1960. That was almost two to one.

During the AFL-CIO Labor Day celebration in Detroit this year, candidate Romney was treated as an outsider and, shrewdly, he made the most of the snub. All the speakers were Democrats. The president of the Wayne County AFL-CIO said the attempt to let the Republican candidate for governor share the platform with the Democratic candidate was an affront to laboring people.

Candidate Romney didn't seem to be impressed. He had no reason to be. Despite that crushing 378,842 majority for Kennedy in Wayne County in 1960, Michigan barely squeaked into the Kennedy column. What happened in Michigan? Almost the same thing that happened in Ohio, which missed being in the Kennedy column by a thumping 273,000 votes because the Cuyahoga County Democratic bosses couldn't offset free votes elsewhere in the state.

Candidate Romney may very well end up in this campaign year running against Walter Reuther instead of John Swainson—with a fair chance of winning. Not in Wayne County, of course, but in Michigan, where winning counts.

A Sales Story

More complaints have been heard from district housewives about the shady business practices of some transient salesman.

It's an old story — the sales promises and the final accounting fail to coincide. Because of misrepresentation, gullible housewives generally are left holding the bag, with the experience a costly one in many cases.

This is not to condemn all transient salesmen. There are far more honest ones than there are dishonest. The latter, however, make it rough on the others.

If there's any doubt as to the reliability of a salesman or his product, investigate before signing on the dotted line. A call to the Chamber of Commerce offices is one sure way of getting sound advice.

Money is too valuable to be thrown away because of a smooth - talking salesman.

The Contempt Is Mutual

Senate Democrats on the subcommittee that had summoned 12 large steel companies to appear before it have cited for contempt of Congress officers of four companies who refused to show up.

Their "contempt" was not for Congress as a whole but for a particular subcommittee of the Senate whose chairman, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, has made no secret of his support for the practice of federal price control by publicity.

The steel industry as a whole is opposed to price control, though only four of 12 major companies have gone to the mat with the Senate subcommittee that moved last April to make political capital of the industry's unsuccessful effort to raise prices.

Its announcement then of an investigation of steel production costs was intended to convey the idea that costs did not justify the proposed price increases and were abandoned after the Kennedy administration had made threats of exposure and legal action.

Whether the threats or the refusal of some steel producers to go along with a price boost caused the price-raising companies to change their minds is a moot question. It probably was some of each.

But when Sen. Kefauver moved into the picture there was no moot question about him. He had seen another chance to show hostility to a pricing system that keeps would-be federal price-fixers at arm's length.

Republic Steel, Bethlehem, Armco and National are the four recalcitrants. Their officers are willing to take the rap in a battle that pits private enterprise against federal control. The issue is whether anything that comes to the mind of a member of Congress is a proper subject for a congressional investigation and whether thereafter any record or any information desired must be furnished, on threat of being cited for contempt of Congress.

In other words, when someone representing Congress shows contempt for the rights of citizens how far can they go in reciprocating?

Summer Has Had It

By Truman Twill

I take issue with the idea that the best part of life ends with summer.

Perhaps to say so marks me as a traitor, but I can get as fed up with summer as I can with winter.

I get fed up with bugs and drought and limping along with gaps in the office lineup because somebody's on vacation and nothing can be done until they get back.

I get fed up with weeds, sucking insects and musty odors in the house; with excessive humidity and going to bed panting with heat and waking up in the middle of the night shivering with cold.

Finally there comes a time when all of us realize that summer has had it, that there is a time for all things to end and summer is going from bad to worse, so ring down the curtain.

It is not the best part of life that ends with summer but only the best part of summer. What started out to be the best of all summers has turned into the tag-end of one more summer, with Japanese beetles, drought, wilt and the sere of the leaf in conspicuous profusion.

There are more important things than to cling to something that's already dead and gone, except for a few more weeks of going.

It's time to shuck off those summer outfits that will be good for a thousand laughs in snapshots in years to come.

It's time to dry out the house and shrink the doors so they will shut — time to get rid of the red ants that have spent the summer on the kitchen drainboards — time to dig in and earn some money to balance what was overspent.

Who wants to spend the next eight months bathed in perspiration and disguised in sun glasses? Who wants to see any more bulbous females peeled down to the unshapely nub because semi-nudity can be justified by the pursuit of comfort in summertime?

Who wants to see any more hairy apes in shorts, or more pictures of fish, or more color slides of the view from the place where someone stayed overnight, or more happy vacationers passing through town on their way to places where they may not like the water anyway?

And what fun would it be to hack away at golf interminably, or fiddle with a boat, or dawdle at poolside month after month, or slam screen doors, or live in out-of-the-way places, or sit in wicker furniture, or scratch cigger bites;

Or spray insecticide, pick green burrs out of a dog's ruff, hoe beans, pick flowers, work outside until 8, imbibe summer beverages, eat charcoal-grilled meat, be deep-tanned and live easy?

Summer has had it.

Ring the school bell.

Buy firewood.

Buy tire chains, snow shovels and galoshes. Excitement is in the way.

Labor To Drive For 35-Hour Week

By Victor Riesel

A few minutes before the President of the United States telephoned Arthur Goldberg to inform him of his appointment to the Supreme Court, Mr. Goldberg and I were discussing labor's critical drive for a 35-hour week with no loss in pay and double time for overtime.

Victor Riesel

The President, among other things, told Goldberg:

"Arthur, you are still very indispensable to me. But I don't know when I'll have another opportunity to make an appointment and I don't way to deny you."

Those were not mere words of flattery. Goldberg—and his most unique talents and old friendships—goes to the high bench at a moment when the nation's labor leaders are about to unleash their most hard-hitting series of drives in 25 years.

Most hard-hitting will be the campaign for the shorter work week. Make no mistake, this will have great impact on our economy and the economy of the world.

There are many who believe that labor's high command passed a mere resolution at their recent Chicago meeting—and now will forget it.

THEY WON'T. They're serious. I have just spoken to four of labor's top policy makers. Among them is the veteran leader who prevailed on his colleagues to launch the campaign now—the man who formulated much of the strategy.

Bluntly he said that labor expects to shave the work week down to 35 hours in the "next two or three years." His strategy is first to fight for 37½ hours a week. Then 35. Then, "fewer hours if necessary to really share the work available in the United States."

All national and international unions have been notified by Washington headquarters to put the shorter work week demand on the agenda for their next bargaining sessions. Already word has come from unions of firefighters, pants makers, Chicago pullman car porters, building service workers and millions of construction workers.

The latter include the men who build and operate our missile and outer space shooting ranges.

Virtually everybody but New York unionists and their employers appear to have forgotten that the official five-hour day has been in operation in the big city electrical construction field since last July 1.

"At first we will not ask for heavy wage increases. We'll ask for fewer hours. Let us say that a man earns $80 a week. In the ordinary course of contract renewal he would, say, get an $8 increase over a period of time. What we would do is say to the employers, give us only two dollars more. THE WHITE HOUSE will buck this strategy. It feels that the steel industry can't afford a 35-hour week. It believes that such a schedule would hurt the auto industry. If these industries—whose contracts come up in the next two and three years—should suffer, all America's economy will, too. That is the position of John Kennedy and Arthur Goldberg.

De Gaulle is notoriously careless of his personal safety, despite the constant presence of his hulking personal guards.

SHOULD EITHER De Gaulle or Adenauer be removed from the scene strange things could happen.

West Germany seems to be following a steady course. The Social Democratic opposition to Adenauer's Christian Democrats has left Marxist dogma far behind and huddled ever closer to the center. But no heir to Adenauer is apparent.

Within Adenauer's own Christian Democratic party Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard seems the most likely successor, but Franz Joseph Strauss, minister of defense, is a possibility. Most certainly Willy Brandt, mayor of West Berlin and the Social Democratic candidate last autumn, is a man of the future.

After De Gaulle, the deluge, or so it now would appear. There is no Frenchman today who seems to have a strong enough personal following, or more important, a sufficiently widely based political organization, to steer the nation through the maelstrom.

De Gaulle has been even less generous than Adenauer in favoring his lieutenants or delegating authority. Without him France might be a fair way on toward anarchy.

Moreover, France has little of the cohesiveness the effort of post-war reconstruction has brought to Germany. As the Reynolds News of London pointed out only the other day, De Gaulle's kingdom embraces the France of the great industrialists and financiers, a hard-faced bunch who are among the most reactionary capitalists in Europe, the France of the discontented peasants and small tradesmen, and the France of the reckless officers and Algerian gunmen.

Woman Hurt As Car Veers Off Route 170

A 45 - year - old Pennsylvania woman was injured when her car apparently veered off Route 170 at the Old Fredericktown Rd. early today in one of four district traffic mishaps reported Tuesday and this morning by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Mrs. Bertha Wimer of Harmony (Pa.) R. D. 1, is in "serious" condition at City Hospital with possible concussion, abrasions of the arm and bruises of the right shoulder.

Officers said she was driving north on Route 170 in a 1954 sedan when the car failed to make the curve at the junction north of Calcutta, went off the left side of the road and overturned.

Mrs. Wimer was found lying along the roadside by passersby, who did not at first realize she had been in a car accident. The mishap occurred about 2:45 a. m.

Gary R. Dean, 16, of Salineville R. D. 1 escaped injury when his car struck an embankment on Route 39 about a third of a mile east of Salineville late yesterday morning.

Dean told the patrol an oncoming vehicle forced him into the ditch.

Perry L. Guy, 32, of East Palestine R. D. 1 was cited on two counts after his pickup truck backed into a parked auto on County Rd. 421 in New Waterford last night at 11:15.

Guy was charged with driving while intoxicated and improper registration.

Robert Snyder, 19, of Washingtonville escaped injury when his car skidded on a curve of Route 14-A east of Salem and went down an embankment. He was charged with speeding.

tion—local negotiatin rather than leaving the matter to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio.

Taggart voiced a complaint given him by a resident of Main St. on low gas pressure.

Cox commented that the firm's legal advisors will not delete a section of the legislation dealing with taxation of the utility. He said the utility is immune to city income tax and that any meter tax would be passed onto the consumer.

Stroble said he does not believe Council is capable of negotiating on the rate increase. He commented many elderly people in Wellsville have installed gas furnaces and an increase will be detrimental to them.

DeLonzo pointed out the proposal is for four years and the city would not get another increase in two years as has been the case in the past.

The rate proposed would cost the average heating consumer about $1 more a month, according to Cox and Harold Sneddon, local manager. Other changes also have been noted.

Legislation was adopted authorizing Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare to advertise for bids for construction of a garage to house city equipment on city-owned property on 1st St. It has been estimated it will cost $7,500. The legislation states specifications are on file at the director's office.

DeLonzo read material on what the loss of jobs could mean to Wellsville if the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads merge. He urged Council to adopt a resolution opposing the proposed merger, stating at least 75 jobs would be lost in Wellsville. He is a railroad employe.

Solicitor William Bush advised Council not to take such action until hearing "the other side of the story." Council decided to write Sen. Frank Lausche and Rep. Wayne L. Hays, asking for more information on the merger proposal.

Auditor Edgar S. Davidson in a letter informed Council the Georgetti River-Rail Terminal owes the city $600 in rental fees on ground leased at $150 a month. Baldasare said $300 was paid in the afternoon.

A discussion was held on selling the ground to the firm. The property committee will investigate and make a recommendation to Council.

Council directed the director to properly mark 3rd St. at the Broadway intersection so motorists will halt their cars away from the intersection and allow easier turning from Broadway onto 3rd St.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis gave the opening prayer.

Public Dance Set At Lawrenceville To Aid Wellsville

Plans for a dance to raise funds to assist Wellsville American Legion Post 70 in repairing the fire-damaged post home were made at a meeting of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 Tuesday night.

John Grimes reported on the post Field Day held Sunday at Valley Park.

Plans were approved for a banquet honoring Lawrenceville youths in the junior and senior divisions of the Hot Stove League. The post also approved presentation of an enscribed mug to past commanders and post district officers.

Don VanDyke, commander, was in charge. Charles Huffman, acting chaplain, gave prayer. A spaghetti supper was served by Grimes and committee.

Next meeting will be Sept. 17.

Police Clarify Route 30 Mishap

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said the collision of a tractor-trailer and car on Route 30 near Laughlins Corners Tuesday occurred when the autoist lost control and his car spun around and hit the truck.

Police said the car of Kyle D. Cline, 19, of Fairmont, W. Va., had smooth tires on the rear and he evidently lost control going around a bend.

The truck was pulled off the road at the time. Its driver, Robert P. Mertiss of Tyrone, Pa., saw the spinning auto and tried to pull the truck up an embankment as far as possible to avoid the accident.

Police said the right rear of the 1949 car hit the left front of the truck, knocking the back end out of the car and causing about $1,400 damage to the truck.

Cline was treated at City Hospital at 8 a. m. yesterday for a laceration of the forehead and contusion of the left leg. The trucker was not hurt.

Tax

Stroble suggested investigating other sources of revenue such as tax on laundries, gas and electric meters, etc.

Solicitor William Bush said the cities of Ohio have been searching for additional tax means for years but it all comes down to more real estate tax or a wage tax.

Howard Lucas spoke from the audience and commented the city has too many employes. He said there are more employes and less people in town.

He commented on a part - time stenographer in the police department.

Miller said $300 was appropriated at the beginning of the year for the girl to send out warnings on delinquent parking meter tickets. Some $102 has been spent to date.

Miller said he feels that more than this has been collected in delinquent fines.

Second reading was given legislation amending the parking meter ordinance so that meter funds can be used for street lighting purposes. Previously it was for street repairs only.

Taggart and Miller opposed the measure.

Police Clarify Route 30 Mishap

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said the collision of a tractor-trailer and car on Route 30 near Laughlins Corners Tuesday occurred when the autoist lost control and his car spun around and hit the truck.

Police said the car of Kyle D. Cline, 19, of Fairmont, W. Va., had smooth tires on the rear and he evidently lost control going around a bend.

The truck was pulled off the road at the time. Its driver, Robert P. Mertiss of Tyrone, Pa., saw the spinning auto and tried to pull the truck up an embankment as far as possible to avoid the accident.

Police said the right rear of the 1949 car hit the left front of the truck, knocking the back end out of the car and causing about $1,400 damage to the truck.

Cline was treated at City Hospital at 8 a. m. yesterday for a laceration of the forehead and contusion of the left leg. The trucker was not hurt.

100 At NAACP Chapter's Dinner

About 100 attended the second banquet of the East Liverpool branch of the NAACP Monday night at the Wellsville VFW Post 9285 home.

Russell Melvin Jones of Columbus, member of the Ohio Advisory Committee to the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights, was guest speaker.

Alonzo Spencer, president of the local branch, presided. Mrs. Elizabeth P. Carter was general chairman.

Next meeting of the local branch will be Friday evening at Leavell's on Pennsylvania Ave., East End.

Tax

Stroble suggested investigating other sources of revenue such as tax on laundries, gas and electric meters, etc.

Solicitor William Bush said the cities of Ohio have been searching for additional tax means for years but it all comes down to more real estate tax or a wage tax.

Howard Lucas spoke from the audience and commented the city has too many employes. He said there are more employes and less people in town.

He commented on a part - time stenographer in the police department.

Miller said $300 was appropriated at the beginning of the year for the girl to send out warnings on delinquent parking meter tickets. Some $102 has been spent to date.

Miller said he feels that more than this has been collected in delinquent fines.

Second reading was given legislation amending the parking meter ordinance so that meter funds can be used for street lighting purposes. Previously it was for street repairs only.

Taggart and Miller opposed the measure.

The electric mixer does a good job of mixing sponge-cake batter. Unless your particular mixer recommends otherwise, use high speed for beating the eggs for the cake. The flour or flour-sugar mixture should be folded in by hand or by low mixer speed.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Organized Study Speeds Learning

Knowing there are many earnest, conscientious youths who have their hearts set on succeeding as students, I am addressing this column today to them, offering a few suggestions for their consideration. Don't wait a week or two to get down to business. Discipline yourself to be alert starting the first day. Resolve to make yourself concentrate on every assignment, every statement made by the teacher, every idea developed during each class period. When you leave a class session consider not how well you escaped answering questions but how well you could have answered every question asked.

ON THE FIRST and every evening, of school spend a short period recalling the high points presented and discussed in each class period. Review the few notes you wrote in class or write down from memory some such notes.

Most of all, be sure you get all class assignments, writing down such directions as you are not sure you can remember. Then, at every free period and during study outside of school, cover these assignments diligently.

Be ready for a test any time on the assignment. Most students wait till they suppose an examination is about due before reviewing the work it is likely to cover.

A better way is to review each evening or free period the work covered that day, also to review the high spots of all that went before, making sure you hold fast to what you have learned.

—:—

AS YOU READ from your text book make it a habit to turn each paragraph into a sentence or so of your own words. The paragraph headings and key sentences may help you do this.

After you have put into a few words of your own the gist of a paragraph, page or chapter, go back and put these statements of your own together and resolve to remember them.

If you are a very poor reader, if might be well for you to practice 15 minutes daily at reading from easy materials like "Robinson Crusoe" or the Bible. You also might find a bright classmate or a tutor to help you read better.

In each subject there will be a few special words, facts, or symbols you will need to use over and over later. Make yourself memorize them so that they will be as familiar to you as your own name.

I have a special bulletin, "Tips for Students", which offers still further suggestions. It may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review; also "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling and Arithmetic" may be of interest.

Tumor Cancerous, But Hoover Seen OK

NEW YORK (AP)—The intestinal tumor removed from former President Herbert Hoover a week ago was cancerous but "no recurrence is anticipated," Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center announced Tuesday.

The statement that no recurrence was expected indicated that doctors believed all the cancerous tissue was removed in the three-hour operation that Hoover, 88, underwent Aug. 28.

The animals generally called "the seven sleepers" are the bear, raccoon, woodchuck, jumping mouse, chipmunk, skunk, and bat.

Record 501 Lose Lives In Auto Wrecks

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents over the long Labor Day weekend killed 501 persons, a record for the holiday and far ahead of the normal number of highway fatalities for a similar non-holiday period.

The final count for the 78-hour (three-day) holiday period showed that 501 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents reported from 6 p.m. (local time) last Friday to midnight Monday. The previous record high of 461 was recorded in the 1951 Labor Day weekend.

Last year's Labor Day traffic toll was 386. The National Safety Council said the average number of traffic deaths for a late summer 78-hour non-holiday weekend is 330. An Associated Press survey last month for a 78-hour non-holiday weekend period showed 256 deaths on the highways.

In addition to traffic deaths, there were 23 fatalities in boating accidents, 57 drownings and 97 deaths in miscellaneous types of accidents, for an over-all total of 678. This also was a record, exceeding the previous total of 658, also set in 1951.

Welding Supply Firm Entered By Intruders

There was no loss in a burglary discovered shortly before noon Tuesday at a local welding supply firm's building, police reported.

E. G. Thayer of Toronto, manager of the local outlet of Herdman Bros. Welding Supply Co., 218 Baum St., told police entrance was forced sometime between 5 p. m. Friday and 11:20 a. m. yesterday. The firm is owned by Alvin Herdman of Steubenville, police said.

Entrance was gained by breaking a window on the south side of the building, officers said. The intruders left by the front door, officers reported. Patrolman Orin C. Smith investigated.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I keep salt flowing freely from its shaker, even in damp weather?

A. A scant teaspoon of raw rice kernels in the salt shaker will accomplish this. Or, put some small pieces of blotter into the shaker and they, too, will absorb the moisture.

Q. How can I remove some chocolate or cocoa stains from unwashable fabrics?

A. First, dissolve the grease in the stain with a sponging of carbon tetrachloride. Dry thoroughly, then sponge with warm water, and dust with powdered pepsin. Work the powder into the cloth carefully, let it remain for a half-hour or longer, then sponge with water.

Q. How can I clean playing cards?

A. The plastic type of card requires only a damp-cloth "once-over" to keep it clean and easy to shuffle. To clean the paper variety of cards, wipe them carefully with a piece of cotton moistened with spirits of camphor, then dry with another piece of clean cotton.

Q. How can I remove some surface discolorations from my bathtub and sink?

A. Use a mixture of baking powder and peroxide. Make a paste of these two ingredients and apply it to the discolored areas with a cloth. After this has dried, wash it away, and the original luster should be restored. This solution is also very good for brightening the finish of your refrigerator.

Levy

"If the levy passes," Greenisen and Hunston said, "the county will be able to bring the home up to state standards. At present, major changes ordered by the state fire marshal, the State Health Department and the State Buildings Department, cannot be undertaken because of lack of operating funds."

The home levy has been placed before voters on three previous occasions, and was rejected each time. However, the opposition margin has decreased in each election, the two commissioners said.

Money obtained from the home levy would be used exclusively for the home, and could not be placed in the general operating funds of the county, they added.

There are 41 residents in the hospital wards at the home which now has 80 residents, Supt. Russell Phillis reported.

In other business, commissioners awarded the Bennett Printing Co. of Lisbon a contract of $253.50 for 15,000 applications for dog licenses and the American Paper Products Co. of Boardman received the contract for 30,000 window envelopes and 15,000 coin envelopes on low bids of $157.50 and $35.25, respectively. All will be used by the dog warden's office.

The city of Wellsville was paid $52 for 104 dogs killed during August.

Next meeting is Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Southern Beaver County Joint Board of Education hired two teachers and granted another a military leave of absence at a meeting Tuesday night.

Mrs. Marianne Elko of Industry will teach homemaking and Robert Voynik of Aliquippa will teach in the elementary intermediate grades.

Victor Thomas Jr., supervising principal, reported that Miss Charlotte Young, who had resigned from her physical education teaching to continue her schooling, will teach until her school opens.

He reported that David Wern, who had been employed on an emergency certificate in the district, has decided not to accept a full-time position at South Side.

The board granted Michael Balco, high school social studies teacher, a military leave.

The board approved a request of the South Beaver County Civic Association to hold a meeting Sept. 27 at South Side Schools near Hookstown.

Harvey Todd, president, presided. Next meeting is Oct. 1.

orized and directed to sell the corporation. The Board of Directors and officers have been unable to secure a purchaser for the corporation, and at a special meeting of the Board of Directors held on Tuesday, Aug. 21, 1962, the board unanimously decided to recommend to the shareholders that the corporation be liquidated and dissolved.

"This action is deemed desirable and necessary by the Board of Directors because of the continuing operating losses being suffered by the corporation. Due to the present tariff policies, which encourage increasing imports of foreign dinnerware produced with low labor costs, it does not seem possible for the operation of the company to become profitable in the foreseeable future.

60% Vote Required

"For the plan of liquidation and the dissolution of the corporation to become effective, a favorable vote of at least 60 per cent of the outstanding shares of the corporation is required. If you cannot attend the meeting in person, you are urged to promptly sign and return the enclosed proxy in the enclosed envelope.

"An executed proxy, upon which no approval or disapproval is noted, will be voted by the proxies named therein for approval of the plan of liquidation and in favor of the dissolution of the corporation. Any proxy may be revoked by a shareholder at any time prior to the meeting upon notice in writing delivered to the secretary of the corporation."

4 Steps Provided

The proposed plan of liquidation sets forth four steps. It would authorize the corporation's officers, if they deem it advisable, to seek the advice of consultants "knowledgable in such matters" concerning the various steps to be followed in the liquidation.

It would authorize the officers to take necessary action to: 1. dispose of the present inventories in a manner. . .most advantageous to the corporation; 2. terminate all manufacturing operations as rapidly as possible consistent with the greatest possible realization of cash from the inventories and 3. collect the accounts receivable.

Dispose Of Assets

Upon liquidation of the current assets, the plan would authorize the board to dispose of the fixed assets in the manner which. . . would be most beneficial to the corporation, either by a negotiated sale or sales or by the employment of a professional liquidator.

The plan would authorize the board to satisfy all debts and liabilities of the corporation and distribute the remaining assets to the shareholders.

Committees Chosen By South Side Group

Committee chairmen were appointed at an executive meeting of the South Side Citizens' Association Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Dwight Chambers of Georgetown R. D. 1, new president.

They include Mrs. Dean Rommes, ways and means; Mrs. Earl Irons, membership; Mrs. Norman Brooks, publicity; Mrs. Albert Weltner, historian, and Charles P. Henderson, parliamentarian.

Plans were also discussed for a membership drive and for a newsletter of past accomplishments and future projects for this year.

Next meeting is Sept. 19 at South Side High School cafeteria when new officers will be installed.

Auto Struck, Then Shoved Nearly Block

An auto struck another in the rear early Tuesday night at a Maplewood intersection, then shoved it nearly a block because the accelerator pedal was stuck, police reported.

The bizarre mishap involved a 1954 sedan operated by Carl W. Hartman, 54, of 742 Manor Ln., which was hit from the rear on St. Clair Ave. at Maplewood Ave. by a 1960 sedan driven by William A. Blakeley, 38, of Meadow Rd., officers said.

Blakeley told police his accelerator pedal stuck at the moment of impact and he was unable to stop his car immediately.

Hartman reported he was driving south on St. Clair about 25 miles an hour when his car was hit from the rear and pushed for nearly a block before he and Blakeley could manage to get their autos stopped.

Blakeley, an auto salesman, was driving a car owned by M. & A. Motors, 1273 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

There was damage to the hood and bumper of the Blakeley car and the rear deck lid, bumper and right rear fender of Hartman's auto, officers said. No one was cited. The crash was timed at 6:58. Patrolman Paul Blevins investigated.

Hartman told police this morning he and his passenger, Mrs. Evelyn K. Smith, suffered severe headaches as an aftermath of the mishap. Police advised that they check with their physicians.

Police Car Deadlined By Suspension Break

A police cruiser is deadlined with a break in the right front suspension system, but repairs probably will be completed by tonight, Chief Americo Radeschi said.

The right front fender of the 1961 Rambler dropped onto the wheel after the suspension broke about 5 p. m. Tuesday as Patrolman Paul Blevins drove the auto on Anderson Blvd., the chief said. There was no other damage, as the auto was moving only 10 to 15 miles an hour at the time, the chief said.

The car has been driven over 90,000 miles and has a previous history of front suspension trouble, Chief Radeschi said. It was towed to the police garage by a wrecker.

Council Studies Road Link At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Council Tuesday night authorized a cost estimate for a proposed link between Brookdale Ave. and the back road to Unity, a recently completed road resurfacing.

The new project would link the Unity road with W. Martin St.

Second Year In Row

Integrated Dixie Schools Open On Peaceful Note

By The Associated Press

For the second year in a row, desegregated Southern schools started the fall term peacefully and this year Negroes and white youngsters attended classes together in parochial schools at New Orleans, La., and Atlanta, Ga.

Public school desegregation spread in Arkansas, Maryland, Florida, Tennessee and Virginia.

Efforts to lower racial barriers failed Tuesday at Baton Rouge, La., Huntsville and Gadsden, Ala., Albany, Ga., and at the Carrollton schools near Dallas, Tex.

Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina remained the only states with no racial integration at the public school level.

Heartened by the lack of major incidents in the South, Chattanooga, Tenn., and surrounding Hamilton County calmly faced the city's first public school integration today.

City and county police were ordered out in force at schools where 51 Negro youngsters registered to attend classes with white children. The metropolitan area on the north Georgia border was the last of Tennessee's four major cities to desegregate.

A total of 23 school systems in Tennessee now have integration programs under way.

The police superintendent of New Orleans, Joseph I. Giarrusso, said that city's citizens "squarely faced an expanded school desegregation Tuesday with calmness, dignity and a complete regard for law enforcement."

About 150 Negroes desegregated some 30 schools of the Catholic archdiocese, embracing New Orleans and 10 neighboring parishes. An estimated 9,000 Negroes are among the 48,000 pupils in the system.

The first New Orleans public school desegregation in 1960 was marked by noisy demonstrations and a boycott by white persons. The city begins its third year of public school integration Thursday.

Racial barriers were dropped in the secondary parochial schools of the Atlanta archdiocese when 17 Negroes attended six previously white schools—four in the Atlanta area, one in Marietta and one in Athens.

To Rule On Candidate

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Hamilton County Democratic Policy Committee is expected to rule soon whether Richard D. Kennedy's name will be included on campaign material printed here. Kennedy, Democratic candidate for congressman - at - large, met with the committee Tuesday for 90 minutes and later told newsmen he felt he had convinced the Hamilton Countians that he is "basically a good Democrat."

Las Vegas' Mayor Wins Governor Nod

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Soft-spoken Mayor Oran Gragson of Las Vegas easily captured Nevada's Republican gubernatorial nomination Tuesday, climaxing a bitter primary campaign with publisher Herman Greenspun.

With still more ease, Democratic incumbents swept down an array of colorful but inexperienced rivals in Senate, congressional and gubernatorial contests.

Rancher William Wright of Elko County, a Republican leader, also followed an easy road to victory in a three-way GOP Senate primary.

Gov. Grant Sawyer and Sen. Alan Bible claimed victory early and Rep. Walter Baring early today claimed defeat of Dist. Atty. John Mendoza of Las Vegas.

Greenspun, known nationally in the 1950s for his editorial attacks on the late Sen. Joseph E. McCarthy of Wisconsin, conceded when it became apparent that nearly 2 to 1 state trend for Gragson was holding up in his hometown.

Last-minute advertisements by a former Democratic assemblyman in Las Vegas pointing up Greenspun's conviction for running guns to Israel and other court trouble was branded a Sawyer-inspired "smear campaign" by the 52-year-old publisher of the Las Vegas Sun.

Democrats Seek To Avoid Veto Angle On Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic lieutenants maneuvered today to avoid a situation in which President Kennedy might feel he had to veto the administration's tax revision bill.

Involved is an amendment being pressed in the Senate by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to attach to the measure a House-passed bill to set up a tax deductable retirement system for self-employed persons.

As many as 80 of the 100 senators are reported to be committed to support this proposal.

Everybody concerned thinks Kennedy would veto the measure if it came to him separately. The opinion is just about as unanimous that he would veto the parent tax bill if such a provision is included.

A veto of the parent bill would mean the junking of his proposal for a 7 per cent tax credit for business plant investment. This provision, agreed to by voters of both houses, has been counted upon by the administration to some of the business opposition aroused in the steel price rollback.

To avoid wasting the months Congress has spent on the tax measure, administration lieutenants were working desperately to line up Senate votes to sidetrack the self-employed proposal until after the parent bill is passed.

The outcome of this touch-and-go effort seemed likely to rest on a firm promise that the self-employed measure would be taken up immediately after the tax bill.

A pledge to get a final vote on the self-employed proposal before the Senate takes up the trade bill might give the administration sufficient votes to table Dirksen's amendment. Democratic leaders reportedly were convinced they had enough votes to do it.

Couple Asks $30,500 In Suits Over Crash

LISBON — Suits for $30,500 as the result of a traffic crash were filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas of Sandyville.

Jack E. Carle, his mother, Florence L. Carle of East Rochester R.D. 1, and the Mallernee Oldsmobile Co., Inc., of Minerva were named defendants.

Mrs. Thomas seeks $25,000 for back injuries and her husband $5,500 for damages and loss of his wife's services. The collision occurred Dec. 15, 1960, on Route 30 east of Minerva. The plaintiffs' car was struck from the rear by a car driven by Jack E. Carle, then 17, and driving on a temporary instruction permit. The car was owned by Mallernee Oldsmobile.

Hearing Set For 4 In Ohioville Attack

The hearing will be at 1:30 p.m. before W. L. Ambrose, Beaver County chief probation officer. The four were released over the weekend from the Allencrest Detention Home near Beaver due to the starting of school this week and also because of the crowded conditions at the home, Ambrose said.

The boys were held at Allencrest in lieu of $100 bonds. All four are about 17.

By HAL HUMPHREY

'Shoot Down Anything That Moves'

"Don't take any chances—shoot down anything that moves," whispers the cliche cowpoke in almost any cliche Western on your TV set.

Hal Humphrey

That sinister order also seems to reflect the current attitude of the network brass. If anything looks like trouble, don't get involved — shoot it down before it bites you, man! NBC evidently got jittery about kicking off its new series of "World of . . ." specials next Oct. 29 with "World of Jackie Kennedy."

So, the network is moving "World of Benny Goodman" into Jackie's spot and putting Jackie's show on Nov. 30 (which had been Benny's date). NBC says the change was made because the clarinet tooter is hotter news now, since his recent trip to Russia.

Benny might be flattered, except he probably also figured out that a jazz musician is less political than the First Lady, especially on a TV program scheduled just a week before Election Day (Don't take any chances . . . shoot man, shoot!")

CBS CONTINUES to crow over the more than 57,000 letters it received ("largest mail response to any CBS-TV program") praising the Aug. 16 special telecast "Americans: A Portrait in Verses," and requesting the list of 22 poems and pets mentioned.

No announcement about a weekly or even monthly series on poetry has been forthcoming from CBS, however. This sparks the memory of Ben Hecht's experience three years ago when he had a "talk-and-interview" program on New York's Channel 5.

The famous author-playwright mentioned 50 books he felt everyone should read. The TV channel was deluged with 9,000 requests for Ben's list and shortly afterward he was fired. When Ben mentioned the mail, he was told by a v.p., "Oh, but that isn't the kind of people who buy things advertised on TV."

Until CBS can prove that its 57,000 poetry respondents also look to TV for advice on deodorants and filter-blends, it isn't likely we'll see a poetry cycle on TV. As Ben Hecht said after he was shot down, "TV discovered the masses and has been committing suicide ever since."

JUNE LOCKHART was slightly chagrined when she walked on the "Lassie" set to begin another year (the ninth for "Lassie") and found that her kitchen hadn't even been repainted. June knows the Martins aren't the most affluent family in their little valley, but no fresh paint is ridiculous —or is it?

What June probably hasn't realized is that a producer with a hit just hates to change anything. If she looks closely, June will discover that the scripts haven't been changed for the past few years, either. ("Shoot anything that moves.")

-:-

REMEMBER WHEN FCC Chairman Newton Minow said he thought the networks weren't putting on enough decent kids' programs? Well, NBC is fixing that oversight with a full-hour weekly program called "Exploring," hosted by scientist Dr. Albert R. Hibbs.

There's only one hitch—"Exploring" takes to the air on Saturday at 11:30 a.m. Show us a kid between 5 and 11 who will sit in the house Saturday morning for an hour and watch an educational type of TV show and we'll show you a kid who needs a head doctor instead of a bone tossed him (and Mr. Minow) by NBC.

Information Sought On Abandoned Girl

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police are seeking information about a 6-year-old girl apparently abandoned at the Adler Hotel Tuesday. She told officers her name is Daphne Biddix and she was brought to Cincinnati Sunday from Asheville, N.C., by a woman who registered at the hotel as Betty Cook. The woman later departed for parts unknown.

Daphne told police she hitchhiked here with the woman and that she had been living at Asheville with her grandmother.

Nuclear Expert Says U.S. Open To Attack

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—"It has become clear now the United States is as open to attack as Poland was in 1939—or even more," says Dr. Edward Teller.

The famed nuclear scientist made the remark Tuesday in talking about how nuclear weapons have weakened the ocean defenses of the United States. He said the United States is precariously behind the Soviet Union in development of atomic weapons.

Ride On Freeway Marks Reception For Teachers

A ride along a section of the new California Hollow - West End Freeway highlighted a reception and tour of the city for 24 new teachers in the East Liverpool and Beaver Local school systems Tuesday.

Arranged by the public education committee of the Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the East Liverpool Teachers' Association, the annual program concluded with a catered luncheon served in the cafeteria at Westgate School.

It began with a coffee hour at Westgate about 9 a. m. yesterday, a prelude to a general teachers' meeting in preparation for Chamber committee members, assisted by officers, served coffee and doughnuts provided by the Teachers Association.

Following the general meeting of the local teachers, new instructors at Beaver Local were brought to Westgate in Chamber members' cars to join in the tour of the city.

Traveling in a school bus driven by Hal Emerson, the group traversed the Lisbon St. grade to Pleasant Heights, then traveled to the property of Mrs. Mary Ridge on Grandview Ave. for a general view of the Ohio River valley from the high bluff.

Returning to West End, the bus turned onto the still - unopened section of the new freeway, crossed the bridge spanning W. 8th St. and traveled to the end of the four - lane pavement at W. 3rd and Monroe Sts.

In a swing through the downtown area, the teachers saw churches, the high school plant and the shopping district. Then the bus traveled up St. Clair Ave., with a swing around the new Trinity United Presbyterian Church on Maine Blvd. for a view upriver toward Midland.

The bus then continued to Thompson Park via Jennings Ave. and St. Clair Ave. After a tour of the park, the group returned to Westgate for the luncheon.

The luncheon had been scheduled for a park picnic shelter, but it was moved indoors because of the inclement weather.

H. J. English served as announcer on the bus, pointing out sites of interest.

At the luncheon, Alvin Babb, Chamber president, officially welcomed the new teachers to the city. Thirty-six attended, including 24 teachers. Edwin Maloney, chairman of the sponsoring committee, introduced the participating Chamber members. The teachers introduced themselves and listed their assignments.

Other participating committeemen and officers were: Ralph W. Betts, Samuel W. Brown, James A. Locke, Harry Martin, Dr. C. M. Mayberry, Collin L. Neal, A. C. Purinton Jr., C. Walter Ashbaugh, William D. Ogilvie, Don Honicky and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager.

Tuesday night, several Chamber committee members held a similar tour of the city and a dinner for some of the new instructors at the South Side, Chester and Newell Schools.

McElroy Decision Due On OSU Trustee Seat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy was expected to decide today who sits in the seventh chair when Ohio State University's board of trustees meets Friday at Wooster.

Former U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker's term on the board has expired, and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle named Robert Lazarus of the department store company in his place. But the appointment is subject to Ohio Senate confirmation and, with the legislature not in session, the trustees want an opinion from the attorney general to be certain who has the seventh vote.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

'Shoot Down Anything That Moves'

"Don't take any chances—shoot down anything that moves," whispers the cliche cowpoke in almost any cliche Western on your TV set.

Hal Humphrey

That sinister order also seems to reflect the current attitude of the network brass. If anything looks like trouble, don't get involved — shoot it down before it bites you, man! NBC evidently got jittery about kicking off its new series of "World of . . ." specials next Oct. 29 with "World of Jackie Kennedy."

So, the network is moving "World of Benny Goodman" into Jackie's spot and putting Jackie's show on Nov. 30 (which had been Benny's date). NBC says the change was made because the clarinet tooter is hotter news now, since his recent trip to Russia.

Benny might be flattered, except he probably also figured out that a jazz musician is less political than the First Lady, especially on a TV program scheduled just a week before Election Day (Don't take any chances . . . shoot man, shoot!")

CBS CONTINUES to crow over the more than 57,000 letters it received ("largest mail response to any CBS-TV program") praising the Aug. 16 special telecast "Americans: A Portrait in Verses," and requesting the list of 22 poems and pets mentioned.

No announcement about a weekly or even monthly series on poetry has been forthcoming from CBS, however. This sparks the memory of Ben Hecht's experience three years ago when he had a "talk-and-interview" program on New York's Channel 5.

The famous author-playwright mentioned 50 books he felt everyone should read. The TV channel was deluged with 9,000 requests for Ben's list and shortly afterward he was fired. When Ben mentioned the mail, he was told by a v.p., "Oh, but that isn't the kind of people who buy things advertised on TV."

Until CBS can prove that its 57,000 poetry respondents also look to TV for advice on deodorants and filter-blends, it isn't likely we'll see a poetry cycle on TV. As Ben Hecht said after he was shot down, "TV discovered the masses and has been committing suicide ever since."

JUNE LOCKHART was slightly chagrined when she walked on the "Lassie" set to begin another year (the ninth for "Lassie") and found that her kitchen hadn't even been repainted. June knows the Martins aren't the most affluent family in their little valley, but no fresh paint is ridiculous —or is it?

What June probably hasn't realized is that a producer with a hit just hates to change anything. If she looks closely, June will discover that the scripts haven't been changed for the past few years, either. ("Shoot anything that moves.")

-:-

REMEMBER WHEN FCC Chairman Newton Minow said he thought the networks weren't putting on enough decent kids' programs? Well, NBC is fixing that oversight with a full-hour weekly program called "Exploring," hosted by scientist Dr. Albert R. Hibbs.

There's only one hitch—"Exploring" takes to the air on Saturday at 11:30 a.m. Show us a kid between 5 and 11 who will sit in the house Saturday morning for an hour and watch an educational type of TV show and we'll show you a kid who needs a head doctor instead of a bone tossed him (and Mr. Minow) by NBC.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have a close friend who has never been on time since I've known her. She's always at least 15 minutes late. I have waited for her as long as an hour.

The woman is never without an excuse — and I've heard them all. She usually starts with, "Everything happens to me."

Last week I sat parked in front of her home for 30 minutes, waiting to give her a lift. Then, "Prompt Polly" (that's me) had to walk into a meeting 25 minutes late. My face was crimson.

She would be shocked if anyone were to suggest that she is selfish or inconsiderate. In fact, in most respects, she's generous to a fault. What, if anything, can be done about a person like this? —PATIENCE WEARING THIN.

-:-

Dear Thin: Anyone who allows himself to be imposed on time after time is a "shnook," in my book.

If you honestly resent this woman's selfishness (find a better word and I'll buy it) let her know you are through waiting for her.

The next time you agree to give her a lift instruct her to be out in front of her home—at the curb. Make it plain if she's not in front you'll go right on. Phone before you leave home and remind her of the arrangement.

When she discovers you won't wait she'll be on time.

Too Young To Leave

Dear Ann: My husband and I cannot agree. Can you help? We have three lovely children. The oldest is a girl, 15, then a boy, 13, and another boy, 9. These children are well behaved and completely trustworthy.

My husband and I have a chance to take a three-week vacation with another couple. We may never again get an opportunity to see the country at such a bargain rate.

Mother phoned last night to say Dad isn't well and she is unable to stay with our children as planned. My husband says the children can manage without her and we don't need anyone here.

I would be uneasy leaving them alone but he claims I am overly protective and the experience of being on their own would be good for them. What do you say?—NOT SURE.

-:-

Dear Unsure: I say DON'T DO IT. And I am asking the typesetters to put this in capital letters.

If something happened in your absence you never would forgive yourself.

Strange how people wouldn't dream of leaving their jewelry or furs unguarded, yet they will take foolish chances with their children who are far more precious.

Get another adult to come in and stay with your children or cancel your trip.

Nightmarish

Dear Ann: That letter from "Ready To Scram" really jarred loose some nightmarish memories for me. Perhaps my letter will save other divorced women with children from making a horrible mistake. It's too late for me. I've already made it.

I'll wager 9 out of 10 so-called pushed-around stepdads played up to the woman's children as part of the act to get her to say yes.

Even the dumbest yosh knows the way to a mother's heart is through her children.

These clever men butter up the kids and make them believe life is going to be one great big picnic together. Then, as soon as the knot is tied — WHAM—the fault-finding, criticizing, ordering around and slapping begins.

My advice to a widow or divorcee with children is this: A man who genuinely likes children doesn't overdo it. He behaves in a normal, natural way — sometimes he may even chastise the child. Beware when he's too fawning.

And for heaven's sake, listen to what people tell you — especially people who have known the character for years. A man's reputation is the key to what he REALLY is. — BURNED BUT GOOD.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A man who told police here last week that he attacked a young girl in Miami several years ago will be charged with the 1954 sex slaying in Miami of 7-year - old Judith Ann Roberts, authorities announced.

The suspect is Robert Franklin Jones, 43, a native of Wapakoneta, Ohio. He was arrested last week on a charge of stealing women's clothing from clothes lines. Police notified Miami authorities when Jones told a story of attacking a young girl, and of reading in the newspapers the next day that her body had been found.

Dade County Sheriff Tom Kelly said in Miami Tuesday night that Jones would be returned to Miami and charged with murder.

Judith Ann, daughter of a Baltimore attorney, was slain in July 1954 after being spirited from her bedroom during the night. Her body, beaten and bound, was found in a swamp the next day.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have a close friend who has never been on time since I've known her. She's always at least 15 minutes late. I have waited for her as long as an hour.

The woman is never without an excuse — and I've heard them all. She usually starts with, "Everything happens to me."

Last week I sat parked in front of her home for 30 minutes, waiting to give her a lift. Then, "Prompt Polly" (that's me) had to walk into a meeting 25 minutes late. My face was crimson.

She would be shocked if anyone were to suggest that she is selfish or inconsiderate. In fact, in most respects, she's generous to a fault. What, if anything, can be done about a person like this? —PATIENCE WEARING THIN.

-:-

Dear Thin: Anyone who allows himself to be imposed on time after time is a "shnook," in my book.

If you honestly resent this woman's selfishness (find a better word and I'll buy it) let her know you are through waiting for her.

The next time you agree to give her a lift instruct her to be out in front of her home—at the curb. Make it plain if she's not in front you'll go right on. Phone before you leave home and remind her of the arrangement.

When she discovers you won't wait she'll be on time.

Too Young To Leave

Dear Ann: My husband and I cannot agree. Can you help? We have three lovely children. The oldest is a girl, 15, then a boy, 13, and another boy, 9. These children are well behaved and completely trustworthy.

My husband and I have a chance to take a three-week vacation with another couple. We may never again get an opportunity to see the country at such a bargain rate.

Mother phoned last night to say Dad isn't well and she is unable to stay with our children as planned. My husband says the children can manage without her and we don't need anyone here.

I would be uneasy leaving them alone but he claims I am overly protective and the experience of being on their own would be good for them. What do you say?—NOT SURE.

-:-

Dear Unsure: I say DON'T DO IT. And I am asking the typesetters to put this in capital letters.

If something happened in your absence you never would forgive yourself.

Strange how people wouldn't dream of leaving their jewelry or furs unguarded, yet they will take foolish chances with their children who are far more precious.

Get another adult to come in and stay with your children or cancel your trip.

Nightmarish

Dear Ann: That letter from "Ready To Scram" really jarred loose some nightmarish memories for me. Perhaps my letter will save other divorced women with children from making a horrible mistake. It's too late for me. I've already made it.

I'll wager 9 out of 10 so-called pushed-around stepdads played up to the woman's children as part of the act to get her to say yes.

Even the dumbest yosh knows the way to a mother's heart is through her children.

These clever men butter up the kids and make them believe life is going to be one great big picnic togeth.er. Then, as soon as the knot is tied — WHAM—the fault-finding, criticizing, ordering around and slapping begins.

My advice to a widow or divorcee with children is this: A man who genuinely likes children doesn't overdo it. He behaves in a normal, natural way — sometimes he may even chastise the child. Beware when he's too fawning.

Bombers' Margin Cut To 2½ Over Rained-Out Twins

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The game's not over until the final out" may be a trite old battle cry—but for the amazing Los Angeles Angels it's a way of life.

Following the script they've used so often this season, the Angels humbled the New York Yankees 7-6 Tuesday by pouring across six runs in the seventh inning and producing the winner in the ninth. It was the 16th time this year they've scored the clincher in their last turn at bat, and the 33rd time they've come from behind in the final three innings.

It was a day of multiple shocks for the Yankees, whose American League lead over the rain-idled Minnesota Twins was cut to 2½ games and over the third-place Angels to 3½.

Even before game time, the Bombers received a disheartening setback when fragile slugger Mickey Mantle was disabled in a batting practice mishap. Mantle tore the lining loose from his rib cage taking a hard cut, and is expected to be sidelined for several days.

In other AL action, the Chicago White Sox edged Cleveland 3-2 on Al Smith's pinch single in the 13th inning and Kansas City whipped Boston 7-2. In addition to the Twins-Senators postponement at Washington, the Detroit Tigers and Orioles were rained out at Baltimore.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers boosted their lead to 3½ games over San Francisco with a 5-4 decision over the Giants, Cincinnati beat Milwaukee 9-6, Pittsburgh downed New York 5-1, St. Louis trounced Chicago 7-1 and Houston finally conquered Philadelphia, 4-1 after 17 straight losses to the Phils.

Turned back with just three hits off southpaw ace Whitey Ford through six innings and trailing 4-0, the Angels cut loose with one out in the seventh. Lee Thomas smacked a two-run homer, Billy Moran singled in a run, two more scored when Tony Kubek let a potential double play ball skip through his legs, and the sixth run came in on a ground out.

Clete Boyer pulled the Yanks even in the eighth when he homered with one on, but the scrambling Angels counter-rallied in the ninth. Joe Koppe led off with a single off Bud Daley, who struck out the next two men but then yielded a walk to Leo Burke and a deciding single to Bob Rodgers.

Smith delivered his game-winning pinch hit for the White Sox with two out in the 13th after Sammy Esposito was walked intentionally, filling the bases. Frank Baumann won it with six scoreless innings of relief. The loss went to Dick Donovan, 18-8, who went all the way for the Indians.

The Athletics battered the Red Sox with two big innings. They counted four runs off loser Bill Monbouquette in the sixth, with a double by Ed Charles and George Alusik's homer the key hits, and pushed across three more against Chet Nichols in the ninth. Ed Rakow was nicked for 12 hits but went the distance for Kansas City.

Stahl Wins Medalist Honors In Qualifier

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Walt Stahl Jr. of Cleveland shot a one-over-par 145 at Brookside Country Club Tuesday to win medalist honors in the 36-hole qualifier for the U.S. National Amateur Golf Tournament at Pinehurst, N. C., Sept. 17-22.

Runnerup in the field of 53 was John Tullio of Aurora, who had a 147. Dan Carmichael of Columbus was third with 148.

Others qualifying were Karl Schmidt of Akron, Art Hudnutt of Elyria and Marion Heck of Salem. The trio finished with 149s and beat Tom Weiskopf of Cleveland in a sudden death playoff.

The average American woman spends about 27 minutes in the supermarket shopping for her groceries.

Angels' Belinsky Will Go To A's After '62 Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels have sold no-hitter southpaw Bo Belinsky to the Kansas City Athletics for delivery after the 1962 season, The Associated Press learned from an authoritative baseball source today.

Delivery of Belinsky to the A's is part of the deal in which the Angels acquired right - handed pitcher Dan Osinski from the Kansas City farm team in Portland.

Officials of the Los Angeles Angels, in New York for a vital series with the Yankees, refused to confirm or deny the report the colorful southpaw has been sold. The Los Angeles Times also reported the deal.

"Get your own damn confirmation," was the reaction of one club official.

Belinsky, a cocky semi-reformed pool shark, pitched the first no-hitter in the American League in four seasons when he beat the Baltimore Orioles 2-0 on May 5.

He was immediately clutched to the hearts of Hollywood, with a resultant drop in his effectiveness. From a 7-2 record, he fell off to 8-9, and has won only one game since mid-June.

ELHS-Niles Battle Heads District's 14-Game Schedule

Wellsville Visits Beaver; 10 Tilts Open Season Friday Night

A 14-game schedule opens the local high school football season this weekend featured by the clash between East Liverpool and Niles, the 1961 Ohio High School football champ.

The Potter-Niles contest is scheduled Saturday night at Patterson Field where the attendance may hit the 6,000 mark since Niles is expected to bring a large following to East Liverpool.

Ten games are on tap Friday as Chester, Newell, Leetonia, East Palestine, Lisbon, Salem and New Cumberland are in games on their own grounds, while Wellsville travels to Beaver, Midland goes to Elwood City and Stanton Local it at Hopedale.

BEAVER LOCAL, beaten only once last season, travels to Leetonia, Friday night. The Bears managed to battle Coach Jack O'Rourke's team to a tie in the 1961 opener.

Beaver Local has a host of experienced linemen and a forward wall that averages 200 pounds but outside of fullback George Gaydos the backs are inexperienced.

Coach Ken Woods sends his Wellsville Tigers against Beaver Friday night in the Pennsylvania city. The two schools did not play during the 1961 campaign.

ALL THREE Hancock County schools are billed in home openers Friday night.

Chester battles another district rival in Ray Russell's United High eleven. The two schools put on a real battle last year with United winning the contest by a touchdown, 14-8.

Following a disastrous season which saw the Newell Vikings going winless in nine tries, the Wells high eleven will attempt to find the winning touch against Sistersville, which is a new opponent for the Green and White.

Northwestern, which was only one of two teams to defeat New Cumberland's fine grid machine last year, invades the County seat. Northwestern gained a 6-0 decision a year ago.

COACH Charlie Polce takes his Midland High squad to Ellwood City where the Leopards will be seeking revenge for a 37-20 setback in 1961.

Tri - County teams get in some warmup licks Friday before the league competition begins. Canfield visits East Palestine, while Carrollton will meet Bud Bucher's Blue Devils at Lisbon.

The Salem Quakers open at home against the Ashland Arrows.

WITH East Liverpool and Niles head the four-game Saturday card and is the only night games to be played in the district Saturday.

Three other local teams are involved in afternoon encounters with Mineral Ridge at Crestview, Salineville at Greenford and Neshannock at South Side. Game time for the three contests is 2 p. m.

Bombers' Margin Cut To 2½ Over Rained-Out Twins

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The game's not over until the final out" may be a trite old battle cry—but for the amazing Los Angeles Angels it's a way of life.

Following the script they've used so often this season, the Angels humbled the New York Yankees 7-6 Tuesday by pouring across six runs in the seventh inning and producing the winner in the ninth. It was the 16th time this year they've scored the clincher in their last turn at bat, and the 33rd time they've come from behind in the final three innings.

It was a day of multiple shocks for the Yankees, whose American League lead over the rain-idled Minnesota Twins was cut to 2½ games and over the third-place Angels to 3½.

Even before game time, the Bombers received a disheartening setback when fragile slugger Mickey Mantle was disabled in a batting practice mishap. Mantle tore the lining loose from his rib cage taking a hard cut, and is expected to be sidelined for several days.

In other AL action, the Chicago White Sox edged Cleveland 3-2 on Al Smith's pinch single in the 13th inning and Kansas City whipped Boston 7-2. In addition to the Twins-Senators postponement at Washington, the Detroit Tigers and Orioles were rained out at Baltimore.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers boosted their lead to 3½ games over San Francisco with a 5-4 decision over the Giants, Cincinnati beat Milwaukee 9-6, Pittsburgh downed New York 5-1, St. Louis trounced Chicago 7-1 and Houston finally conquered Philadelphia, 4-1 after 17 straight losses to the Phils.

Turned back with just three hits off southpaw ace Whitey Ford through six innings and trailing 4-0, the Angels cut loose with one out in the seventh. Lee Thomas smacked a two-run homer, Billy Moran singled in a run, two more scored when Tony Kubek let a potential double play ball skip through his legs, and the sixth run came in on a ground out.

Clete Boyer pulled the Yanks even in the eighth when he homered with one on, but the scrambling Angels counter-rallied in the ninth. Joe Koppe led off with a single off Bud Daley, who struck out the next two men but then yielded a walk to Leo Burke and a deciding single to Bob Rodgers.

Smith delivered his game-winning pinch hit for the White Sox with two out in the 13th after Sammy Esposito was walked intentionally, filling the bases. Frank Baumann won it with six scoreless innings of relief. The loss went to Dick Donovan, 18-8, who went all the way for the Indians.

The Athletics battered the Red Sox with two big innings. They counted four runs off loser Bill Monbouquette in the sixth, with a double by Ed Charles and George Alusik's homer the key hits, and pushed across three more against Chet Nichols in the ninth. Ed Rakow was nicked for 12 hits but went the distance for Kansas City.

Angels' Belinsky Will Go To A's After '62 Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels have sold no-hitter southpaw Bo Belinsky to the Kansas City Athletics for delivery after the 1962 season, The Associated Press learned from an authoritative baseball source today.

Delivery of Belinsky to the A's is part of the deal in which the Angels acquired right - handed pitcher Dan Osinski from the Kansas City farm team in Portland.

Officials of the Los Angeles Angels, in New York for a vital series with the Yankees, refused to confirm or deny the report the colorful southpaw has been sold. The Los Angeles Times also reported the deal.

"Get your own damn confirmation," was the reaction of one club official.

Belinsky, a cocky semi-reformed pool shark, pitched the first no-hitter in the American League in four seasons when he beat the Baltimore Orioles 2-0 on May 5.

He was immediately clutched to the hearts of Hollywood, with a resultant drop in his effectiveness. From a 7-2 record, he fell off to 8-9, and has won only one game since mid-June.

Stahl Wins Medalist Honors In Qualifier

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Walt Stahl Jr. of Cleveland shot a one-over-par 145 at Brookside Country Club Tuesday to win medalist honors in the 36-hole qualifier for the U.S. National Amateur Golf Tournament at Pinehurst, N. C., Sept. 17-22.

Runnerup in the field of 53 was John Tullio of Aurora, who had a 147. Dan Carmichael of Columbus was third with 148.

Others qualifying were Karl Schmidt of Akron, Art Hudnutt of Elyria and Marion Heck of Salem. The trio finished with 149s and beat Tom Weiskopf of Cleveland in a sudden death playoff.

Dodgers Stretch Lead To 3½ After Edging Giants, 5-4

Roseboro's Steal Proves Clincher

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers, big, bad bandits on the basepaths, have stretched their National League lead to 3½ games on a sudden burst of speed by the unlikeliest desperado of them all — catcher John Roseboro.

The Dodger receiver came barreling home in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's key battle with second-place San Francisco, sliding in safely with the run that turned out to be the clincher in a 5-4 squeaker over the Giants.

The Dodger triumph evened the key four-game series between the leaders at one game apiece and gave the Dodgers a substantial edge with 23 games remaining.

It looked like an easy one for the Dodgers, who struck for three quick runs off Giants' starter Billy Pierce in the first inning on run-producing hits by Tommy Davis, Frank Howard and Ron Fairly. The Giants got one back against Pete Richert in the fifth on Tom Haller's homer.

Then Roseboro took over.

After Lee Walls singled, Big Bad John lashed a triple, and stole home for the second time in a week.

Ron Perranoski came on for the Dodgers to protect the lead, but ran into trouble in the ninth when a single by Harvey Kuenn and a homer by Jose Pagan brought the Giants within one run—Roseboro's run. Perranoski, however, bore down, striking out sluggers Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to end it.

Third-place Cincinnati remained 6½ games back, using Marty Keough's homer for a 9-6 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis belted the Chicago Cubs 7-1 on homers by Stan Musial and Gene Oliver while Harvey Haddix pitched and batted Pittsburgh to a 5-1 decision over the New York Mets.

At Houston, the Colts snapped their 17-game losing streak to Philadelphia, beating the Phils 4-1 behind Bob Bruce's four-hitter without the elaborate jinx-breaking production which they tried Labor Day.

In the American League, the third-place Los Angeles Angels edged the first-place New York Yankees 7-6, moving to within 3½ games of the top. The Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 3-2 in 13 innings and Kansas City beat Boston 7-2. The other clubs were rained out.

Vada Pinson drove in four runs with his 21st homer and a single, but it took Keough's pinch-hit bases-empty homer in the eighth off Claude Raymond (5-3) to snap a 6-6 tie and put it away for the Reds. The Braves rapped out 14 hits, including homers Nos. 24 and 25 by Ed Mathews before Jim Brosnan relieved Jim O'Toole (15-13) and retired the last five men. Johnny Edwards also homered for the Reds.

Musial connected for his 16th homer after Cubs' starter Cal Koonce (9-9) walked two men in the third. That gave the Cards a lead they never relinquished as Larry Jackson (13-10) allowed only five singles, striking out seven while walking none. Cubs second baseman Ken Hubbs drew to within one of Bobby Doerr's record of 414 consecutive chances without an error.

Haddix (9-5) permitted the Mets only eight hits while collecting three himself, stroking two doubles and a single and scoring the run that proved to be the clincher on Bill Virdon's fifth inning single. The Mets scored their only run in the seventh on a double by Frank Thomas and Joe Christopher's single. Craig Anderson (3-16) took the loss, his 15th in a row.

Bruce (9-8) kept the Colts from becoming the first team in major league history to lose an entire season's series to another club. This was the last meeting between the two teams. Bruce also drove in two runs with a double and single, sharing honors with Bob Lillis, who knocked in a pair with a triple. The only run off Bruce came on Don Demeter's 25th homer. Cal McLish (9-5) was the loser.

Ex-Cleveland Baseball Figure Dies At 88

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lucius Forrest Harris, 88, who played second base for the Cleveland Spiders, forerunner of the Indians, died Tuesday night at his home in Chagrin Falls.

Harris, who operated a hardware store in Chagrin Falls for 50 years, was 18 when he joined the Spiders as a teammate of the famed Tris Speaker. He also was the first football coach at Chagrin Falls High School and founded the school's boosters club.

The pleasure - loving citizens of ancient Sybaris on the shores of the Mediterranean piped wine from hilltop vineyards.

THIS IS ONE TIME Dodgers' Maury Wills did not make it. The Los Angeles speedster is out at home plate in the first inning of Tuesday's game at Chavez Ravine. Dodgers' Willie Davis bunted to Giants third baseman Jim Davenport who made the throw to Giants' catcher Tom Hall (5) for the out. (UPI Telephoto)

Ohio State Could Take All The Marbles In '62

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's big, bruising Bucks could make the experts look pretty good this fall.

Most of the crystal ball gazers figure Woody Hayes' powerhouse should dominate the Big Ten, grab the Rose Bowl invitation it declined last year, and put in a powerful bid for the national No. 1 ranking.

Favored by a flock of top talent, and a schedule with not too many rough spots, the Bucks could do all three.

From last year's unbeaten team Ohio lost only end Charles Bryant and All-America fullback Bob Ferguson from the offense. The defense was hit somewhat harder, and Hayes says he'll have several sophomores in this year's "hold 'em" contingent.

"We'll wish at times that we had Ferguson back," Hayes predicted, "for he's the best fullback the Big Ten has had in 20 years. But we have the best set of seniors we've ever had; we're in great shape so far as eligibility is concerned, and as a rule we have fewer injuries than any team in the league. I figure we'll be in the first division."

The schedule figures it that way, too. Minnesota, Michigan State and Purdue, which finished 2-3-4 behind the Bucks last year and appear just as rugged this time, do not appear on Ohio's schedule. The League's "lower six" offer the opposition, and with the intersectional foes — North Carolina, UCLA and Oregon—could muster only 39 wins against 46 losses a year ago.

Hayes has had four unbeaten Big Ten seasons since coming to the Bucks in 1951. On that angle he mused:

"The only man ever to win seven conference games in a year is now over 100 years old (Amos Alonzo Stagg)—but we've done it twice in the last 10 years."

Hayes opened practice Monday, two days later than most of the other Big Ten clubs—but said he did it to save money. The economy angle was a tongue-in-cheek one, for the Bucks drew a record 414,712 to five home games last year and this season's six tilts are practically sellouts.

With the opener weeks away, only 10,141 of 486,000 seats are unsold, prices ranging from the $3 bleachers to the $5.50 boxes.

For years the Ohio offense has been dominated by fullback thrusts off tackle, and quarterback rollouts. Only 90 passes were thrown last year, an average of 10 a game.

But Hayes said:

"There will be better passing throughout the league this season. The platoon system will allow it. Everyone is trying to get a passer for the quarterback spot. We'll pass a lot more this year—although maybe we'll do it just in practice.

"But I look for a wide open, more imaginative game this fall. Our pass will be a threat, as usual. Last year Joe Sparma completed only 16 passes—but six of them went for touchdowns. The conference leader had only nine touchdowns, and that was for a passing team."

The Bucks will be big and fast. Hayes insists that every member of the squad, as practice opens, run a mile in six minutes or less —and that includes the husky linemen.

"The kids hate to run that mile, so we know it must be good for them," Hayes said. "It has helped us cut our injuries."

The veteran mentor said there would be not great changes in his offense this year.

Roseboro's Steal Proves Clincher

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers, big, bad bandits on the basepaths, have stretched their National League lead to 3½ games on a sudden burst of speed by the unlikeliest desperado of them all — catcher John Roseboro.

The Dodger receiver came barreling home in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's key battle with second-place San Francisco, sliding in safely with the run that turned out to be the clincher in a 5-4 squeaker over the Giants.

The Dodger triumph evened the key four-game series between the leaders at one game apiece and gave the Dodgers a substantial edge with 23 games remaining.

It looked like an easy one for the Dodgers, who struck for three quick runs off Giants' starter Billy Pierce in the first inning on run-producing hits by Tommy Davis, Frank Howard and Ron Fairly. The Giants got one back against Pete Richert in the fifth on Tom Haller's homer.

Then Roseboro took over.

After Lee Walls singled, Big Bad John lashed a triple, and stole home for the second time in a week.

Ron Perranoski came on for the Dodgers to protect the lead, but ran into trouble in the ninth when a single by Harvey Kuenn and a homer by Jose Pagan brought the Giants within one run—Roseboro's run. Perranoski, however, bore down, striking out sluggers Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to end it.

Third-place Cincinnati remained 6½ games back, using Marty Keough's homer for a 9-6 victory over Milwaukee. St. Louis belted the Chicago Cubs 7-1 on homers by Stan Musial and Gene Oliver while Harvey Haddix pitched and batted Pittsburgh to a 5-1 decision over the New York Mets.

At Houston, the Colts snapped their 17-game losing streak to Philadelphia, beating the Phils 4-1 behind Bob Bruce's four-hitter without the elaborate jinx-breaking production which they tried Labor Day.

In the American League, the third-place Los Angeles Angels edged the first-place New York Yankees 7-6, moving to within 3½ games of the top. The Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 3-2 in 13 innings and Kansas City beat Boston 7-2. The other clubs were rained out.

Vada Pinson drove in four runs with his 21st homer and a single, but it took Keough's pinch-hit bases-empty homer in the eighth off Claude Raymond (5-3) to snap a 6-6 tie and put it away for the Reds. The Braves rapped out 14 hits, including homers Nos. 24 and 25 by Ed Mathews before Jim Brosnan relieved Jim O'Toole (15-13) and retired the last five men. Johnny Edwards also homered for the Reds.

Musial connected for his 16th homer after Cubs' starter Cal Koonce (9-9) walked two men in the third. That gave the Cards a lead they never relinquished as Larry Jackson (13-10) allowed only five singles, striking out seven while walking none. Cubs second baseman Ken Hubbs drew to within one of Bobby Doerr's record of 414 consecutive chances without an error.

Haddix (9-5) permitted the Mets only eight hits while collecting three himself, stroking two doubles and a single and scoring the run that proved to be the clincher on Bill Virdon's fifth inning single. The Mets scored their only run in the seventh on a double by Frank Thomas and Joe Christopher's single. Craig Anderson (3-16) took the loss, his 15th in a row.

Bruce (9-8) kept the Colts from becoming the first team in major league history to lose an entire season's series to another club. This was the last meeting between the two teams. Bruce also drove in two runs with a double and single, sharing honors with Bob Lillis, who knocked in a pair with a triple. The only run off Bruce came on Don Demeter's 25th homer. Cal McLish (9-5) was the loser.

Ex-Cleveland Baseball Figure Dies At 88

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lucius Forrest Harris, 88, who played second base for the Cleveland Spiders, forerunner of the Indians, died Tuesday night at his home in Chagrin Falls.

Harris, who operated a hardware store in Chagrin Falls for 50 years, was 18 when he joined the Spiders as a teammate of the famed Tris Speaker. He also was the first football coach at Chagrin Falls High School and founded the school's boosters club.

Ohio State Could Take All The Marbles In '62

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's big, bruising Bucks could make the experts look pretty good this fall.

Most of the crystal ball gazers figure Woody Hayes' powerhouse should dominate the Big Ten, grab the Rose Bowl invitation it declined last year, and put in a powerful bid for the national No. 1 ranking.

Favored by a flock of top talent, and a schedule with not too many rough spots, the Bucks could do all three.

From last year's unbeaten team Ohio lost only end Charles Bryant and All-America fullback Bob Ferguson from the offense. The defense was hit somewhat harder, and Hayes says he'll have several sophomores in this year's "hold 'em" contingent.

"We'll wish at times that we had Ferguson back," Hayes predicted, "for he's the best fullback the Big Ten has had in 20 years. But we have the best set of seniors we've ever had; we're in great shape so far as eligibility is concerned, and as a rule we have fewer injuries than any team in the league. I figure we'll be in the first division."

The schedule figures it that way, too. Minnesota, Michigan State and Purdue, which finished 2-3-4 behind the Bucks last year and appear just as rugged this time, do not appear on Ohio's schedule. The League's "lower six" offer the opposition, and with the intersectional foes — North Carolina, UCLA and Oregon—could muster only 39 wins against 46 losses a year ago.

Hayes has had four unbeaten Big Ten seasons since coming to the Bucks in 1951. On that angle he mused:

"The only man ever to win seven conference games in a year is now over 100 years old (Amos Alonzo Stagg)—but we've done it twice in the last 10 years."

Hayes opened practice Monday, two days later than most of the other Big Ten clubs—but said he did it to save money. The economy angle was a tongue-in-cheek one, for the Bucks drew a record 414,712 to five home games last year and this season's six tilts are practically sellouts.

With the opener weeks away, only 10,141 of 486,000 seats are unsold, prices ranging from the $3 bleachers to the $5.50 boxes.

For years the Ohio offense has been d o m i n a t e d by fullback thrusts off tackle, and quarterback rollouts. Only 90 passes were thrown last year, an average of 10 a game.

But Hayes said:

"There will be better passing throughout the league this season. The platoon system will allow it. Everyone is trying to get a passer for the quarterback spot. We'll pass a lot more this year—although maybe we'll do it just in practice.

"But I look for a wide open, more imaginative game this fall. Our pass will be a threat, as usual. Last year Joe Sparma completed only 16 passes—but six of them went for touchdowns. The conference leader had only nine touchdowns, and that was for a passing team."

The Bucks will be big and fast. Hayes insists that every member of the squad, as practice opens, run a mile in six minutes or less —and that includes the husky linemen.

"The kids hate to run that mile, so we know it must be good for them," Hayes said. "It has helped us cut our injuries."

The veteran mentor said there would be not great changes in his offense this year.

"We have everybody's plays, and everybody has our plays," he said. "The difference is in the way they're run—and in the boys running them."

Coaching On Field Only Minor Part

ELHS Coaching Staff Keeps Busy With Extra Grid Jobs

East Liverpool High's football team will be busy the next few months with some rugged foes, but the coaching staff will be kept even busier with time-consuming jobs connected with the sport, Coach Bob Hedmond told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

"Coaching on the field is only a minor part of the game today," Hedmond declared.

HE POINTED out the Potter staff spends 45 minutes after each practice organizing plans for the next day's drills. And the weekends after Friday night games are not spent lamenting or celebrating the outcomes.

The staff meets each Saturday morning to grade films of the previous night's game, searching for flaws in a maneuver that failed, or checking the reason for its success. Saturday afternoons and evenings are spent in scouting opponents, Hedmond added.

On Sunday, the Potter coaches take time out to attend worship services in the morning, but convene again in the afternoon or evening and frequently remain in session until midnight Hedmond said. The coaches also regularly attend meetings of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club each Tuesday night during the season.

HEDMOND was accompanied by three assistants — Rey Peduzzi, starting his sixth season here, Jack Bair, and Norm Six. He listed other coaches in Larry Foltz, Jim Potts and Pick Rolley at Westgate, and Paul Barbuto and Harry Wolfe at East Junior High.

"These fellows deserve credit for the accomplishments in our football program," Hedmond asserted.

Hedmond also discussed personnel on this year's Potter team. The 66-member squad, which originally numbered 91, includes 33 sophomores, 23 juniors and 10 seniors, he said.

There were 18 lettermen on the squad, including 10 who are juniors. Injuries have been minor, and the team's spirits are running high, he added.

POINTING to this year's schedule, Hedmond declared "It's the toughest since I've been here, but by far the most interesting."

The Potters open Saturday night at home against Niles, last year's Ohio champion. "Niles has eight returning lettermen, and the team is well - coached, although not as big as last year," Hedmond said.

He had this to say about other opponents:

Beaver Local — "one of our rivals, with a veteran line, and I expect a hard game;" Steubenville Central — "they beat Massillon in a scrimmage;" New Philadelphia — "they've been real tough in the past;" Youngstown Rayen — "they were green last year, but will have a huge backfield this year;" Big Red — "one of the biggest teams in this area, listing halfback Harry Wilson, a real speedster, and another rival;" Bellaire St. John's —"all sophomores and seniors last year, they will be veterans this year;" Salem — "always a tough foe, also a rival;" Midland — "a game a lot of East Liverpool people are looking forward to, I expect a hard game;" Alliance — "this team lists veterans, has some really fast boys, and they beat Warren in scrimmage."

HEDMOND also briefly discussed rule changes, pointing out the most significant is one allowing the punting squad to "down" the ball anywhere on the field. Previously, the ball was moved to the 20-yard line if the punting team touched it inside their opponent's 10-yard line.

Hedmond was introduced by Samuel W. Brown, program chairman. Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, said the club has been invited to hear Atty. Ralph Miller of Wheeling speak on the Area Redevelopment Association at the Lions Club meeting Friday, and to panel discussions on East Liverpool's development Sept. 21-28.

Sophomore Candidate Suffers Elbow Injury

Weeses Win In Labor Day Golf At Club

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Weese fired low gross of 47-39-86 to sweep honors in the Scotch foursome event which featured the Labor Day golf program at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Low net in the first division was turned in by Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Beatty with 94-27-67.

In the second division, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kjellman shot low gross of 48-44-92 while low net was recorded by Bob Putt and Cathy Mayers with 94-26-68.

Dr. R. J. Kinsey scored 28 points to win Monday's par-birdie-eagle contest. A four-way tie for the runnerup spot showed M. W. Thompson, Everson Hall, Don Burbick and J. T. Hall recording 20 points each.

J. W. Cooper scored 25 points to gain honors in the second division.

Sunday's match play against par showed J. T. Hall finishing on top with 9 up. Bob Gilmore was second, closing 5 up, Bill McNutt and Art Lynch 4 up and E. B. Rohrer and Dr. H. F. Banfield 2 up.

Bob Wells finished 6 up to cop the second division.

During Sunday's play, J. M. Wells Jr. carded a 67, 5 under par, and scored an eagle 2 on the No. 3 hole which measures 336 yards when he holed a No. 7 iron.

A best ball medal play event was captured by R. J. Clark and John Koos who combined for 60. Dr. J. J. Laneve and T. H. Kashuba was second with 64 while L.W. Smith Jr. and J. R. Porter and a team of E. B. Rohrer and W. R. Kelly turned in 65's.

Bob Wells and W. W. Kelly turned in a 66 to take honors in the second division.

Reds Looking For Help From Other NL Squads

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—With time running out, the Cincinnati Reds are looking for help—from other National League clubs.

Manager Fred Hutchinson reviewed the third place Reds' chances of repeating as champions Tuesday night after they struggled to a 9-6 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

"We have to keep on winning ourselves, but we also are going to have to get help from clubs playing Los Angeles and San Francisco," Hutchinson said.

"We're through for the year with the Dodgers, and only 2 of our last 22 games are with the Giants," he added. "We have 5 with Philadelphia, 5 with Pittsburgh, 5 with St. Louis, 3 with New York and 2 with Chicago."

A twi-night doubleheader in Cincinnati tonight closes out the Reds-Cubs series. Joe Nuxhall (4-0) and Jim Maloney (8-6) will pitch for Cincinnati.

The Reds unloaded a 15-hit attack, featured by homers by Vada Pinson, Johnny Edwards and Marty Keough, in downing the Braves for the 13th time in 18 meetings this year.

The victory enabled Cincinnati to keep 6½ games behind Los Angeles and move to three behind the Giants.

Hutchinson said that "normally you would figure 105 victories would win the pennant." But, he added, it might take only 103 this year.

Figuring on 103, the Reds would have to win 18 of their final 22—better than an .800 pace.

"That isn't an impossibility and we're not going to stop trying," Hutchinson said.

The Reds blew a five-run lead in the 1962 windup with the Braves, but bounced back to win on a pinch homer by Keough in the eighth and a two-run single by Pinson, who had four RBI for the night.

Pinson's homer in the first was his 21st of the season. Edwards lined his seventh with two mates aboard in the fourth. Then Keough came through with his decisive smash, his seventh homer in part-time duty this year.

Southpaw Jim O'Toole earned his 15th victory, but needed help from Jim Brosnan after Milwaukee put runners on first and second and only one out in the eighth. Brosnon retired five straight batters in preserving O'Toole's fourth triumph without defeat against the Braves.

Hutchinson showed proof he isn't ready to push any panic button as he stuck with O'Toole until the eighth despite 14 Milwaukee hits. Two of the safeties were Eddie Mathews' 24th and 25th homers.

Milwaukee southpaw Warren Spahn failed again in a bid for his 15th victory of the campaign and No. 324 of his brilliant career. The 41-year-old southpaw was tagged for nine hits and six runs before giving way to a pinch-batter in the fifth.

$234 Derived At Tag Day For Boosters

Mrs. June Twyford, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported $234 was realized from a tag day held Saturday when the Lady Potters Boosters Club met Tuesday.

Fourteen were present and heard Bob Hedmond, head coach of the Potters, speak briefly and introduce members of his varsity and junior high coaching staff.

The club again will provide sandwiches for East Liverpool players following home football games and also operate a concession stand at Patterson Field.

Mrs. Mary Kraft, president, presided at last night's meeting.

White Gains Most Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill White of the St. Louis Cardinals gained the most ground among the batting leaders last week and moved into fifth place in the National League competition.

White, eighth a week ago, collected 12 hits in 26 tries and picked up seven points to .326.

Meanwhile, Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers regained the lead from Cincinnati's Frank Robinson. Davis, who also paces the circuit in runs batted in with 128, climbed two points to .342 with 12 safeties in 31 at bats.

Robinson fell into a second place tie at .335 with the Cards' Stan Musial. Robinson lost seven points with a 7-for-31 showing while Musial dropped one point with 8-for-25. Hank Aaron of Milwaukee tumbled one place to fourth at .331. The figures include Monday's games.

In the American League, Pete Runnels of Boston lost six points. However, with a .332 average, he holds a 19-point edge over runner-up Floyd Robinson of the Chicago White Sox. Robinson picked up one point to .313 with 10 safeties in 31 trips.

Froehling Feels He Can Defeat Laver

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Frank Froehling, a tall, hard-hitting 20-year-old predicted today he could beat "unbeatable" Rod Laver—if only he could learn to concentrate.

"I've played Laver several times," said Froehling, a junior at Trinity University. "He's beaten me each time, but I've played him on a pretty even keel. If I could learn to concentrate, I think I could beat him."

Froehling is America's sixth-ranked player and is seeded eighth in the current National championships. It's something of a distinction in view of the fact that Chuck McKinley, No. 3, is the only other seeded American.

Froehling played Cliff Drysdale of South Africa in the third round today. Only 11 matches were played Tuesday before rain interrupted the proceedings at the West Side Tennis Club. This was the second rainout in a week.

The big question today was whether Karen Hantze Susman would recover enough from her flu attack to continue in the tournament. Wimbledon queen Karen from San Diego, Calif., is seeded No. 2 in the women's division to Margaret Smith of Australia.

Karen defeated Mimi Arnold of Santa Barbara, Calif., 6-1, 8-6, Tuesday but just managed to last out the match. When it was all over, her husband, Rod, said she would have had to default if she had lost the second set. It was a second-round match that had been postponed because of Karen's illness from Monday.

Miss Smith made short work of Stephanie de Fina of Hollywood, Calif., 6-0, 6-1 to lead the way into the third round. Defending champion Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., seeded No. 5, downed Jan Lehane of Australia, 6-4, 6-3, and Maria Bueno of Brazil, seeded No. 3, and the champion in 1959, whipped Deidre Catt of Britain, 6-4, 8-6.

Ex-Purdue Quarterback Has Eye On Safety Spot

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ross Fichtner, former Purdue quarterback, has a good chance of being the Cleveland Browns' regular right safety man when they open the 1962 campaign Sept. 16 against the New York Giants here.

Fichtner, an extra defensive back last season, helped his cause considerably with two pass interceptions against the Los Angeles Rams last Saturday night.

His first interception ended a scoring threat in the third quarter and the second grab killed the Rams' hopes of getting into position for a field goal in the late seconds of the game.

Fichtner feels the fact he wasn't shifted around during the training season has made him an improved player.

"They put me at right safety and have left me there," he said after Tuesday's drill at League Park. "You'd be surprised the difference it makes.

"I've been able to think about the problems of that particular area and the players I'll face most of the time. That concentration really helps."

The coaches like Fichtner's tackling ability and feel he has the quickness to cover the fleet pass receivers.

The Browns need a victory over the Chicago Bears Friday night in Chicago to complete their five-game preseason schedule undefeated. Coach Paul Brown is toying with the idea of starting rookie Ernie Green at left halfback against the Bears.

The custom of "laying down the carpet" for important persons comes from the ancient tradition that the feet of certain Far Eastern potentates should not be allowed to touch the ground.

3 Local Dogs Gain Honors

Three local dogs placed high in the Beaver County Kennel Club show held Saturday.

Asta of Lannenwald, the German Shepherd owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heckathorn of Hillcrest placed second in novice A obedience work scoring 196½ of a possible 200 points and gaining her second leg of a required three for the title "companion dog." Heckathorn's dog also placed second in confirmation.

Select Princess Gidgit, the Shetland Sheep dog owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith of Newell continued to win by scoring 196½ plus points out of a possible 200 and placing first in Novice A obedience work gaining her first leg of a required three for her companion dog title.

Gidgit also placed first in confirmation for the 9-12 months age group.

Hil-Ray's Queen of Scots, owned by Mrs. Hilda G. Bigelow of East Liverpool and handled by Ray J. Bigelow came up from a first prize win in the American - bred class to go reserve. Another Bigelow entry, Hil-Ray's Hebrides Rock won first prize in the puppy division in the 6-9 months age group.

43-Year-Old Agajania Released By Packers

By The Associated Press

At 43, Bootin' Ben Agajanian may have stuck his kicking foot in brine for the last time.

Bootin' Ben, veteran kicking specialist whose kicking foot is toeless and toughened by soaking in brine, was among the players cut Tuesdaya the American and cut Tuesday as the American and National Football Leagues reached their mandatory player limits.

The amazing ancient was trimmed by the NFL champion Green Bay Packers, who acquired the oldest active pro football player from San Diego of the AFL last year. Agajanian was picked up as kicking insurance when all-purpose back Paul Hornung went into the Army.

Agajanian has had a varied career. It first ended in 1941 when the onetime New Mexico University star lost all but the little toe on his right foot in a freight elevator accident. Agajanian, however, never gave up.

A cobbler made him a special shoe to minimize the pain and he began to soak his foot in brine to toughen it. Several retirements and hundreds of successful conversions later, Agajanian was still able to smile about the accident that almost finished his career.

Asked by a football player's father how to make a placekicker out of his son, Agajanian answered: "Cut off his toes."

Now he's out of a job again, along with seven-year veteran L. G. Dupre, heralded quarterback Lee Grosscup and Olympians Ray Norton and Ted Woods, in the NFL cutdown.

Two trades also were concluded in the final maneuvering to get down to the 38-man limit. Another two must go by next Tuesday's final cut to 36 players.

The Los Angeles Rams traded linebacker Bob Pelligrini, a six-year veteran, to Washington for a high 1964 draft choice. In a three-cornered deal, Dallas traded Dick Bielski to Baltimore, the Colts sent a high draft choice to St. Louis and the Cards turned over kicking specialist Jerry Norton to the Cowboys.

The Pittsburgh Steelers released 10-year NFL veteran end Bob Schnelker, onetime Bowling Green of Ohio star.

Charged In Cutting

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 14-year-old Middletown youth has been charged with cutting to kill as the result of a fight Monday night in which another youth was injured. Douglas Watson, 14, remained in fair condition Tuesday at Middletown Hospital with a stab wound in his chest.

Coaching On Field Only Minor Part

ELHS Coaching Staff Keeps Busy With Extra Grid Jobs

East Liverpool High's football team will be busy the next few months with some rugged foes, but the coaching staff will be kept even busier with time-consuming jobs connected with the sport, Coach Bob Hedmond told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

The Potter chief, speaking at the club's noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel, pointed to such tasks as scouting, grading films, and attending meetings as some of the necessary "extra-curricular" activities.

"Coaching on the field is only a minor part of the game today," Hedmond declared.

HE POINTED out the Potter staff spends 45 minutes after each practice organizing plans for the next day's drills. And the weekends after Friday night games are not spent lamenting or celebrating the outcomes.

The staff meets each Saturday morning to grade films of the previous night's game, searching for flaws in a maneuver that failed, or checking the reason for its success. Saturday afternoons and evenings are spent in scouting opponents, Hedmond added.

On Sunday, the Potter coaches take time out to attend worship services in the morning, but convene again in the afternoon or evening and frequently remain in session until midnight Hedmond said. The coaches also regularly attend meetings of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club each Tuesday night during the season.

HEDMOND was accompanied by three assistants — Rey Peduzzi, starting his sixth season here, Jack Bair, and Norm Six. He listed other coaches in Larry Foltz, Jim Potts and Pick Rolley at Westgate, and Paul Barbuto and Harry Wolfe at East Junior High.

"These fellows deserve credit for the accomplishments in our football program," Hedmond asserted.

Hedmond also discussed personnel on this year's Potter team. The 66-member squad, which originally numbered 91, includes 33 sophomores, 23 juniors and 10 seniors, he said.

There were 18 lettermen on the squad, including 10 who are juniors. Injuries have been minor, and the team's spirits are running high, he added.

POINTING to this year's schedule, Hedmond declared "It's the toughest since I've been here, but by far the most interesting."

The Potters open Saturday night at home against Niles, last year's Ohio champion. "Niles has eight returning lettermen, and the team is well - coached, although not as big as last year," Hedmond said.

He had this to say about other opponents:

Beaver Local — "one of our rivals, with a veteran line, and I expect a hard game;" Steubenville Central — "they beat Massillon in a scrimmage;" New Philadelphia — "they've been real tough in the past;" Youngstown Rayen — "they were green last year, but will have a huge backfield this year;" Big Red — "one of the biggest teams in this area, listing halfback Harry Wilson, a real speedster, and another rival;" Bellaire St. John's —"all sophomores and seniors last year, they will be veterans this year;" Salem — "always a tough foe, also a rival;" Midland — "a game a lot of East Liverpool people are looking forward to, I expect a hard game;" Alliance — "this team lists veterans, has some really fast boys, and they beat Warren in scrimmage."

HEDMOND also briefly discussed rule changes, pointing out the most significant is one allowing the punting squad to "down" the ball anywhere on the field. Previously, the ball was moved to the 20-yard line if the punting team touched it inside their opponent's 10-yard line.

Hedmond was introduced by Samuel W. Brown, program chairman. Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, said the club has been invited to hear Atty. Ralph Miller of Wheeling speak on the Area Redevelopment Association at the Lions Club meeting Friday, and to panel discussions on East Liverpool's development Sept. 21-28.

Sophomore Candidate Suffers Elbow Injury

Tom Prentice, 15, a sophomore end candidate on the East Liverpool squad, is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital after suffering a dislocated elbow during a scrimmage with Newell High Tuesday afternoon at Patterson Field. Newell outscored the all-sophomore Potter team three touchdowns to nothing.

J. W. Cooper scored 25 points to gain honors in the second division.

Sunday's match play against par showed J. T. Hall finishing on top with 9 up. Bob Gilmore was second, closing 5 up, Bill McNutt and Art Lynch 4 up and E. B. Rohrer and Dr. H. F. Banfield 2 up.

Bob Wells and W. W. Kelly turned in a 66 to take honors in the second division.

Reds Looking For Help From Other NL Squads

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—With time running out, the Cincinnati Reds are looking for help—from other National League clubs.

Manager Fred Hutchinson reviewed the third place Reds' chances of repeating as champions Tuesday night after they struggled to a 9-6 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

"We have to keep on winning ourselves, but we also are going to have to get help from clubs playing Los Angeles and San Francisco," Hutchinson said.

"We're through for the year with the Dodgers, and only 2 of our last 22 games are with the Giants," he added. "We have 5 with Philadelphia, 5 with Pittsburgh, 5 with St. Louis, 3 with New York and 2 with Chicago."

A twi-night doubleheader in Cincinnati tonight closes out the Reds-Cubs series. Joe Nuxhall (4-0) and Jim Maloney (8-6) will pitch for Cincinnati.

The Reds unloaded a 15-hit attack, featured by homers by Vada Pinson, Johnny Edwards and Marty Keough, in downing the Braves for the 13th time in 18 meetings this year.

The victory enabled Cincinnati to keep 6½ games behind Los Angeles and move to three behind the Giants.

Hutchinson said that "normally you would figure 105 victories would win the pennant." But, he added, it might take only 103 this year.

Figuring on 103, the Reds would have to win 18 of their final 22—better than an .800 pace.

"That isn't an impossibility and we're not going to stop trying," Hutchinson said.

The Reds blew a five-run lead in the 1962 windup with the Braves, but bounced back to win on a pinch homer by Keough in the eighth and a two-run single by Pinson, who had four RBI for the night.

Pinson's homer in the first was his 21st of the season. Edwards lined his seventh with two mates aboard in the fourth. Then Keough came through with his decisive smash, his seventh homer in part-time duty this year.

Southpaw Jim O'Toole earned his 15th victory, but needed help from Jim Brosnan after Milwaukee put runners on first and second and only one out in the eighth. Brosnon retired five straight batters in preserving O'Toole's fourth triumph without defeat against the Braves.

Hutchinson showed proof he isn't ready to push any panic button as he stuck with O'Toole until the eighth despite 14 Milwaukee hits. Two of the safeties were Eddie Mathews' 24th and 25th homers.

Milwaukee southpaw Warren Spahn failed again in a bid for his 15th victory of the campaign and No. 324 of his brilliant career. The 41-year-old southpaw was tagged for nine hits and six runs before giving way to a pinch-batter in the fifth.

White Gains Most Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill White of the St. Louis Cardinals gained the most ground among the batting leaders last week and moved into fifth place in the National League competition.

White, eighth a week ago, collected 12 hits in 26 tries and picked up seven points to .326.

43-Year-Old Agajania Released By Packers

By The Associated Press

At 43, Bootin' Ben Agajanian may have stuck his kicking foot in brine for the last time.

Bootin' Ben, veteran kicking specialist whose kicking foot is toeless and toughened by soaking in brine, was among the players cut Tuesdaya the American and cut Tuesday as the American and National Football Leagues reached their mandatory player limits.

The amazing ancient was trimmed by the NFL champion Green Bay Packers, who acquired the oldest active pro football player from San Diego of the AFL last year. Agajanian was picked up as kicking insurance when all-purpose back Paul Hornung went into the Army.

Agajanian has had a varied career. It first ended in 1941 when the onetime New Mexico University star lost all but the little toe on his right foot in a freight elevator accident. Agajanian, however, never gave up.

A cobbler made him a special shoe to minimize the pain and he began to soak his foot in brine to toughen it. Several retirements and hundreds of successful conversions later, Agajanian was still able to smile about the accident that almost finished his career.

Asked by a football player's father how to make a placekicker out of his son, Agajanian answered: "Cut off his toes."

Now he's out of a job again, along with seven-year veteran L. G. Dupre, heralded quarterback Lee Grosscup and Olympians Ray Norton and Ted Woods, in the NFL cutdown.

Two trades also were concluded in the final maneuvering to get down to the 38-man limit. Another two must go by next Tuesday's final cut to 38 players.

The Los Angeles Rams traded linebacker Bob Pelligrini, a six-year veteran, to Washington for a high 1964 draft choice. In a three-cornered deal, Dallas traded Dick Bielski to Baltimore, the Colts sent a high draft choice to St. Louis and the Cards turned over kicking specialist Jerry Norton to the Cowboys.

The Pittsburgh Steelers released 10-year NFL veteran end Bob Schnelker, onetime Bowling Green of Ohio star.

Charged In Cutting

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A 14-year-old Middletown youth has been charged with cutting to kill as the result of a fight Monday night in which another youth was injured. Douglas Watson, 14, remained in fair condition Tuesday at Middletown Hospital with a stab wound in his chest.

RIDE 'EM, YOUNGSTERS!

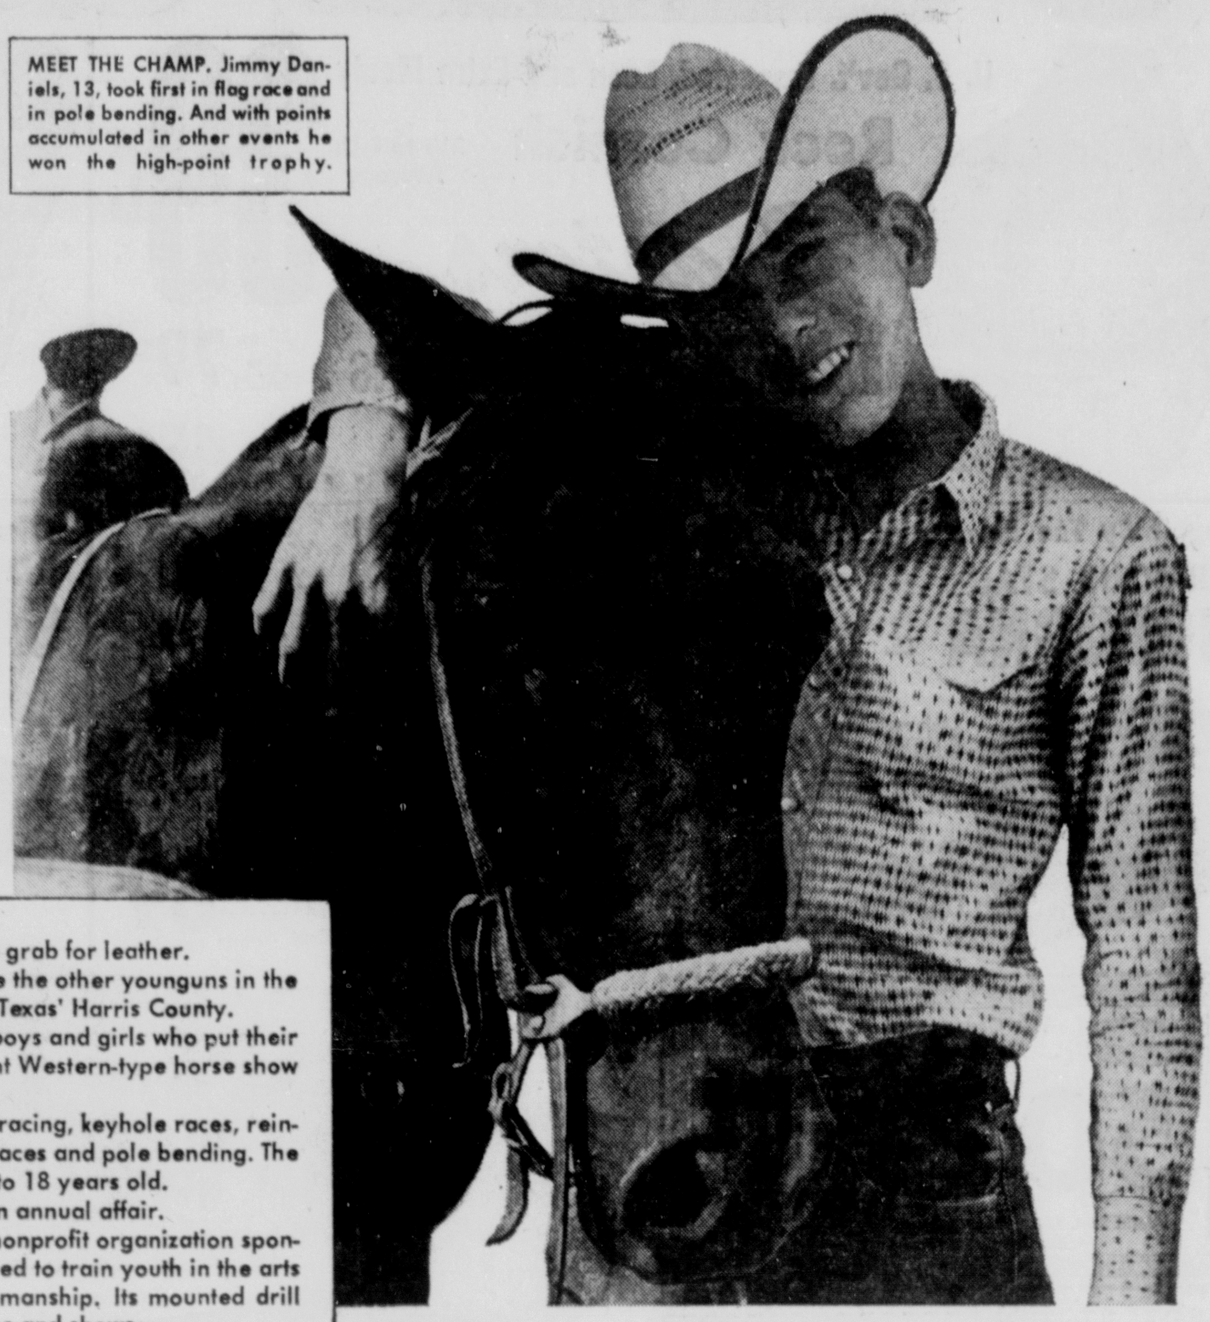
UPSYDAISY! This spirited horse and rider are preparing to enter the reining contest.

MEET THE CHAMP. Jimmy Daniels, 13, took first in flag race and in pole bending. And with points accumulated in other events he won the high-point trophy.



Yippee! Look at that 6-year-old cowpoke grab for leather. He's a high rider for sure, and so are the other younguns in the Junior Deputy Sheriff's Mounted Posse of Texas' Harris County.

Here's a tip of the Stetson to the boys and girls who put their horses through exciting paces at the recent Western-type horse show in the arena, in Houston.

There were 21 events, such as barrel racing, keyhole races, reining, bareback riding, flag races, rescue races and pole bending. The performers—112 of 'em—ranged from 6 to 18 years old.

This was the first such show. It's to be an annual affair.

The junior posse, started in 1952, is a nonprofit organization sponsored by Sheriff C. V. Kern. It is designed to train youth in the arts of horsemanship, citizenship and sportsmanship. Its mounted drill teams participate in many parades, rodeos and shows.

Horseback riding contest saw the boys and girls pace their horses around the arena. The judging was on the agility of horse and rider, and showmanship.

Pole bending event was action packed. Contestants weaved around the turns, competing for best time.

Thrills of a contest make Sherry Lynn Steel, 3, forget her icy refreshment for the moment.

Lafe Talley, 3, can't face it. He's buried in topper on mama's back.

Saddle weary, this young lady beds down on her horse for a beauty nap.

District Court Due 11 Cases

LISBON — The 7th District Court of Appeals will be asked Sept. 12 by the state, represented by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and a representative from the attorney general's office, to overrule Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp's dismissal of indictments against officers of the Lisbon Sales Book Co. and the firm. He held the new Ohio law was unconstitutional.

The indictments were returned by the September 1961 Grand Jury under a new law which went into effect Sept. 1 last year.

Judge Sharp ruled out the indictments, declaring the law against printing gambling slips does not take into consideration intention or knowledge by the manufacturer of the use of the printed forms.

The legislation had inserted the words "manufacturing" or "printing" in the law aimed at manufacturers to stop the numbers operation.

The district court judges, Lynn B. Griffith of Warren, John L. Donahue and Paul W. Brown of Youngstown, will hear an accumulation of 11 cases.

Other cases scheduled include: McAllister's Dairy Farms, Inc., vs. The City of East Liverpool, et al, law fact.

Party To Aid Voter Signup

Plans to aid in the citywide voter registration campaign for the Nov. 6 general election were made Tuesday night when the City Democratic Central Committee met in the Council chamber at City Hall. Twenty-six attended.

Named to a committee to head the voter enrollment were Leo Payne, chairman, Joseph A. Winters, secretary, Mrs. Iris Applegate, Ed Brown, Rudy Halpate and Donald Hancock.

Don Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman, outlined plans for the drive. He urged a door-to-door canvass to enroll electors in all 32 precincts. Sept. 26 is the registration deadline.

Gosney also announced plans for a reception for Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Sept. 27 at 1 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel during a county-wide campaign tour. Gov. DiSalle will speak to the Kiwanis Club at the hotel immediately prior to the reception.

Gosney also reminded the committee of plans for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner Oct. 20 at Beaver Local High School.

The committee made plans to open a campaign headquarters within a week or 10 days. It said the location will be announced later. Payne presided.

Hancock, chairman of the East Liverpool Men's Democratic Club, reported on the club's annual picnic held Aug. 26 at Arrowhead Lake in Columbiana.

Mixed Reactions Cited In Stand Against Airport

CINCINNATI (AP)—The decision of five airlines to take a stand against setting up a major regional airport in southwestern Ohio had drawn mixed reaction in the area.

The Air Transportation Association of America, representing American, Delta, Eastern, Piedmont and Trans-World Airlines wrote commissio of 11 southern Ohio counties Tuesday that the regional airport plan is unsound.

While Manager Arven Saunders of Greater Cincinnati Airport called the decision a "vote of confidence from the airlines," supporters of the regional airport had different things to say.

R. William Patterson, former Dayton mayor and long-time champion of the regional airport, described the letter as a "three-week collection of airline bugaboos."

"As a former negotiator for Dayton city government, I learned very well the airlines are primarily interested in any status quo that will ensure them a present productive market. They continue to maintain this position with all the arrogance of a tenant who is intent upon telling the management how to operate its business," Patterson said.

Officials in Butler County, where the new airport probably would be located, said they were disappointed by the decision.

People In News

By The Associated Press

U Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, returned from a 10-day tour of Iron Curtain nations during which he talked with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. He repeated a previous statement that Khrushchev does not at the moment plan to attend the coming U.N. General Assembly meeting, but added that this "does not preclude his coming at a later date if circumstances warrant it."

John Foster Dulles, the secretary of state who died on May 24, 1959, at the age of 71 left an estate of more than one million dollars—$862,579 after taxes. Principal beneficiary is Dulles' widow, Janet, of Washington, who gets the income from the residuary estate for life.

A son, John Watson Foster Dulles of Rio de Janeiro got $100,000; a daughter, Lillias Dulles Hinshaw of New York City, got $10,000, and another son, the Rev. Avery Dulles, a Jesuit priest in Woodstock, Md., was left $5,000. Three sisters were willed $10,000 each, and a brother, Allen, former head of the Central Intelligence Agency, got a set of books valued at $50.

Tom Ewell received a generous but not very precise contract, says Actors Equity. The union of stage performers made the ruling in connection with a contract given Ewell for appearances at the Bucks County Playhouse in Pennsylvania in "Harvey." After listing various terms, the contract added "the actor may have anything else he wants."

The producer said the clause was inserted for the sake of brevity, but Equity said the rider "is so indefinite as to its meaning we must exercise our perogative to refuse it as part of the contract."

Party To Aid Voter Signup

Plans to aid in the citywide voter registration campaign for the Nov. 6 general election were made Tuesday night when the City Democratic Central Committee met in the Council chamber at City Hall. Twenty-six attended.

Named to a committee to head the voter enrollment were Leo Payne, chairman, Joseph A. Winters, secretary, Mrs. Iris Applegate, Ed Brown, Rudy Halpate and Donald Hancock.

Don Gosney of Columbiana, county chairman, outlined plans for the drive. He urged a door-to-door canvass to enroll electors in all 22 precincts. Sept. 26 is the registration deadline.

Gosney also announced plans for a reception for Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Sept. 27 at 1 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel during a county-wide campaign tour. Gov. DiSalle will speak to the Kiwanis Club at the hotel immediately prior to the reception.

Gosney also reminded the committee of plans for the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner Oct. 20 at Beaver Local High School.

The committee made plans to open a campaign headquarters within a week or 10 days. It said the location will be announced later. Payne presided.

Mixed Reactions Cited In Stand Against Airport

CINCINNATI (AP)—The decision of five airlines to take a stand against setting up a major regional airport in southwestern Ohio had drawn mixed reaction in the area.

The Air Transportation Association of America, representing American, Delta, Eastern, Piedmont and Trans-World Airlines wrote commissio of 11 southern Ohio counties Tuesday that the regional airport plan is unsound.

While Manager Arven Saunders of Greater Cincinnati Airport called the decision a "vote of confidence from the airlines," supporters of the regional airport had different things to say.

R. William Patterson, former Dayton mayor and long-time champion of the regional airport, described the letter as a "three-week collection of airline bugaboos."

"As a former negotiator for Dayton city government, I learned very well the airlines are primarily interested in any status quo that will ensure them a present productive market. They continue to maintain this position with all the arrogance of a tenant who is intent upon telling the management how to operate its business," Patterson said.

Officials in Butler County, where the new airport probably would be located, said they were disappointed by the decision.

People In News

By The Associated Press

U Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, returned from a 10-day tour of Iron Curtain nations during which he talked with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. He repeated a previous statement that Khrushchev does not at the moment plan to attend the coming U.N. General Assembly meeting, but added that this "does not preclude his coming at a later date if circumstances warrant it."

John Foster Dulles, the secretary of state who died on May 24, 1959, at the age of 71 left an estate of more than one million dollars—$862,579 after taxes. Principal beneficiary is Dulles' widow, Janet, of Washington, who gets the income from the residuary estate for life.

A son, John Watson Foster Dulles of Rio de Janeiro got $100,000; a daughter, Lillias Dulles Hinshaw of New York City, got $10,000, and another son, the Rev. Avery Dulles, a Jesuit priest in Woodstock, Md., was left $5,000. Three sisters were willed $10,000 each, and a brother, Allen, former head of the Central Intelligence Agency, got a set of books valued at $50.

Tom Ewell received a generous but not very precise contract, says Actors Equity. The union of stage performers made the ruling in connection with a contract given Ewell for appearances at the Bucks County Playhouse in Pennsylvania in "Harvey." After listing various terms, the contract added "the actor may have anything else he wants."

The producer said the clause was inserted for the sake of brevity, but Equity said the rider "is so indefinite as to its meaning we must exercise our perogative to refuse it as part of the contract."

Way Cleared On Pughtown Water Plans

Hancock County commissioners Tuesday afternoon formally declared Pughtown as a public service district with no protests made to the plan at the meeting in the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Residents of the central section of the small village along State Route 2 had asked that Pughtown be declared a public service district in order that water and sewage systems may be installed.

Those backing the plan had presented petitions listing over 100 signatures in support of the proposal. Commissioners acted Tuesday after no one appeared to protest the plan, but a dozen residents showed up in its support.

Commissioners were to act on the proposal in July, but delayed pending revisal of the service district's boundaries to eliminate homes of several who objected to the plan.

Boundaries of the public service district were revised to include only those homes in the "hilltop" section of the village, and not those in the areas of Park Meadows and Scotts Ln.

Commissioners said three trustees will be named later, and they will have the responsibility of seeking bids and awarding contracts for the installation of central water and sewage systems.

Commissioners William C. Graham, Lyle Virden and James Finley also approved the applications of Sam S. Ballato of New Cumberland and Felix S. Zagula of Chester as notaries public.

Next meeting will be Oct. 1.

3 Jefferson Judges Launch Murder Trial

STEUBENVILLE — The murder trial of William Anderson of the Toronto area opened today in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court.

Judges John J. Griesinger, Arthur Hooper and Ross Michener are hearing the case instead of a jury — first such tiral of its kind in five years in the county.

Anderson, charged with the shotgun slaying of Sam Douglas Calhoune in February, waived his right to trial by jury and requested that three judges determine his guilt or innocence.

Anderson was listed as "being aware of the nature of the crime" after examination at Lima State Hospital.

In the last such case in the county, the defendant was found not guilty by reason by insanity and was ordered to a state hospital. He was later released.

Street Job Postponed When Rain Continues

As city officials feared Tuesday, continuing rains today forced postponement of the start of a low cost program for surfacing of secondary streets.

The Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co., Inc., of Canton, contractor, moved in equipment and material on schedule Tuesday afternoon, ready to begin the work today if weather permitted.

But intermittent rain continued throughout the morning, forcing the postponement. More than 35 streets are scheduled for surfacing, with the city and the property-owners sharing the expense equally.

Supt. Ralph Betts said the total is 160 less than anticipated but an increase of about 70 is expected by Monday.

Globe Strike In Fifth Day; No Talks Set

Pickets maintained a rainy vigil today at two entrances of the Globe Brick Co. near Newell as a strike of 226 employes entered its fifth day with no indication of the resumption of negotiations for a new contract.

Neither the company nor Local 647 of the International Brick and Clay Workers Union had knowledge of any new developments in the first strike in a half-century at Globe.

The local began picketing the plant Saturday, declaring employes will not work without a contract. The local's bargaining committee headed by William G. Brewer, president, rejected Globe's last offer of a new contract by a unanimous 6-0 vote.

Meanwhile, the local said about 30 employes who reportedly were laid off Aug. 23 when their jobs were eliminated are checking out their eligibility for unemployment compensation.

The West Virginia State Employment Office in Weirton said several reported to file claims, but no decision will be made on their eligibility for benefits until after the Charleston office completes an investigation of the work stoppage. The state office apparently will determine if the group was laid off before the work stoppage or strike developed.

The Weirton office emphasized no decision has been made on whether or not the 30 former employes in question are eligible for unemployment compensation. The workers were idled when the company reverted to gas-firing of kilns from coal, the office said.

Brewer reported that Laymond Nalley of Newell has been appointed as temporary vice president of Local 647 due to the illness of Fred DeLong.

Suspended Jail Term Given To 2 Husbands

Two East Liverpool husbands were given suspended jail terms today in Municipal Court on charges filed by their wives.

A suspended 30-day term was given Albert Lamp, 510 Walnut St., accused of assault and battery Monday on his wife, Patricia. He pleaded guilty. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff suspended the term on condition Lamp is of good behavior in the future and provides for his children.

The judge gave a suspended 90-day term to Anthony R. Eckert, 955 St. George St., named in an affidavit filed by his wife, Miriam, which alleged he has not supported his four minor children, ranging in age from 2 to 7, since last Jan. 1. Questioned by the court, Eckert said his earnings as a gardener total $31 weekly.

Way Cleared On Pughtown Water Plans

Hancock County commissioners Tuesday afternoon formally declared Pughtown as a public service district with no protests made to the plan at the meeting in the Courthouse in New Cumberland.

Residents of the central section of the small village along State Route 2 had asked that Pughtown be declared a public service district in order that water and sewage systems may be installed.

Those backing the plan had presented petitions listing over 100 signatures in support of the proposal. Commissioners acted Tuesday after no one appeared to protest the plan, but a dozen residents showed up in its support.

Commissioners were to act on the proposal in July, but delayed pending revisal of the service district's boundaries to eliminate homes of several who objected to the plan.

Boundaries of the public service district were revised to include only those homes in the "hilltop" section of the village, and not those in the areas of Park Meadows and Scotts Ln.

Commissioners said three trustees will be named later, and they will have the responsibility of seeking bids and awarding contracts for the installation of central water and sewage systems.

Commissioners William C. Graham, Lyle Virden and James Finley also approved the applications of Sam S. Ballato of New Cumberland and Felix S. Zagula of Chester as notaries public.

Next meeting will be Oct. 1.

3 Jefferson Judges Launch Murder Trial

STEUBENVILLE — The murder trial of William Anderson of the Toronto area opened today in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court.

Judges John J. Griesinger, Arthur Hooper and Ross Michener are hearing the case instead of a jury — first such tiral of its kind in five years in the county.

Anderson, charged with the shotgun slaying of Sam Douglas Calhoune in February, waived his right to trial by jury and requested that three judges determine his guilt or innocence.

Anderson was listed as "being aware of the nature of the crime" after examination at Lima State Hospital.

In the last such case in the county, the defendant was found not guilty by reason by insanity and was ordered to a state hospital. He was later released.

Street Job Postponed When Rain Continues

As city officials feared Tuesday, continuing rains today forced postponement of the start of a low cost program for surfacing of secondary streets.

The Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co., Inc., of Canton, contractor, moved in equipment and material on schedule Tuesday afternoon, ready to begin the work today if weather permitted.

But intermittent rain continued throughout the morning, forcing the postponement. More than 35 streets are scheduled for surfacing, with the city and the property-owners sharing the expense equally.

City Schools Enrollment Totals 5,578

A total of 5,578 pupils — an increase of 157 over last term—was reported this morning as city schools began a new term.

Supt. Ralph Betts said the total is 160 less than anticipated but an increase of about 70 is expected by Monday.

Enrollment at Westgate and East Junior High Schools totaled 1,428—Westgate, 1,025, and East Junior, 403.

A total of 2,992 children were enrolled in the elementary grades while the high school enrolled 1,158.

A breakdown of the elementary enrollment shows:

Garfield, 252; Glenmoor, 274; Horace Mann, 311; Klondyke, 80; LaCroft, 240; Lincoln, 213; McKinley, 242; Neville, 155; Pleasant Heights, 169; Taft, 223, Westgate elementary, 686, and special education, 47.

Enrollment for classes at St. Aloysius Parochial School totaled about 491, an increase of about 15 over the 1961-62 term, Sister Mary Cylene, principal announced.

There were 69 first graders.

8,225 Pupils Listed In Hancock Schools

More than 8,225 pupils began their second day of classes in the Hancock County school system today, with virtually all buildings reporting increases in enrollment.

The court shows 4,778 enrolled in elementary schools, and 3,410 in secondary buildings. The actual enrollment will fluctuate the first few days of classes,and will not be determined until perhaps later today or Thursday.

The office of Supt. Robert H. Hall reported the pupil count today showed 408 students at Chester High School, 79 at Chester Grandview, 307 at Chester Central, 386 at Chester elementary, 117 at Chester Washington, 358 at Wells High School in Newell, and 426 in Newell Jefferson elementary.

Globe Strike In Fifth Day; No Talks Set

Pickets maintained a rainy vigil today at two entrances of the Globe Brick Co. near Newell as a strike of 226 employes entered its fifth day with no indication of the resumption of negotiations for a new contract.

Neither the company nor Local 647 of the International Brick and Clay Workers Union had knowledge of any new developments in the first strike in a half-century at Globe.

The local began picketing the plant Saturday, declaring employes will not work without a contract. The local's bargaining committee headed by William G. Brewer, president, rejected Globe's last offer of a new contract by a unanimous 6-0 vote.

Meanwhile, the local said about 30 employes who reportedly were laid off Aug. 23 when their jobs were eliminated are checking out their eligibility for unemployment compensation.

The West Virginia State Employment Office in Weirton said several reported to file claims, but no decision will be made on their eligibility for benefits until after the Charleston office completes an investigation of the work stoppage. The state office apparently will determine if the group was laid off before the work stoppage or strike developed.

The Weirton office emphasized no decision has been made on whether or not the 30 former employes in question are eligible for unemployment compensation. The workers were idled when the company reverted to gas-firing of kilns from coal, the office said.

Brewer reported that Laymond Nalley of Newell has been appointed as temporary vice president of Local 647 due to the illness of Fred DeLong.

Suspended Jail Term Given To 2 Husbands

Two East Liverpool husbands were given suspended jail terms today in Municipal Court on charges filed by their wives.

A suspended 30-day term was given Albert Lamp, 510 Walnut St., accused of assault and battery Monday on his wife, Patricia. He pleaded guilty. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff suspended the term on condition Lamp is of good behavior in the future and provides for his children.

The judge gave a suspended 90-day term to Anthony R. Eckert, 955 St. George St., named in an affidavit filed by his wife, Miriam, which alleged he has not supported his four minor children, ranging in age from 2 to 7, since last Jan. 1. Questioned by the court, Eckert said his earnings as a gardener total $31 weekly.

Stick To Economy Estimate

Businessmen Also Take Market Break In Stride

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are joining consumers in taking the stock market break in stride and sticking to their earlier estimate of the course of the economy.

Individual companies have been spending this year, but industry as a whole is set now to put out just as many dollars this year as it was in February before the government clash with Big Steel or in May before the stock market break.

The Department of Commerce says its August survey shows spending this year is planned at $37.2 billion. This is up 8 per cent from last year and tops the previous record of $36.96 billion in 1957.

All of this is fine, except—

At the start of the year the government had counted on a percentage increase of twice that amount. It built its federal budget around tax receipts tuned to that, and to a greater gain in consumer spending than materialized, although this too is ahead of 1961. And it counted on these increases to provide the economic growth that would whittle the jobless total below 5 per cent of the total labor force.

That hope vanished some time back. But today the government, business executives, and stock traders are taking comfort from two facts—consumer spending did advance, if not as much as hoped, and neither all the talk about the government clash with business in April over a short-lived steel price increase, nor the bad stock market breaks in May and June have changed business spending plans for expansion.

Most such plans are made on a long-range basis anyway. They reflect business estimates of the course of the economy—and more particularly the future prospects of their own company—over a number of years.

Only part of this year's spending may be to enlarge a plant, build a new one, or modernize an old one, with the idea of reaping immediate profits.

But the hope for eventual profit gains are definitely there—along with the expectation of greater economic growth, whenever it may come.

Economists were watching to see if the big drop in stock prices in late spring would trim business spending plans. The department's August survey gives no clue to business executive's thinking along this line. It merely reveals that as yet the totals, as apart from individual companies' plans, haven't changed.

Another influence, the strength of which is in question, is the liberalized depreciation write-off allowances for tax purposes announced the Treasury in July. The idea was that this should stimulate expansion because the old rules had become obsolete. There is little in the August survey to show the effect one way or another.

About all that seems to be shown clearly is that business, like the consumer, hasn't panicked into a belief that a big recession is in the making.

Many, in and out of business, look for a turndown—perhaps next year. But more and more are expressing the belief that if it materializes it will be mild and that the basic strength of the economy isn't menaced at this time.

Fatal Ohio Case Not Believed To Be Florida Type

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A recent fatal case of encephalitis in Ohio is not believed to have been the same type which has hit Florida's west coast.

Dr. Winslow Bashe, chief of the Ohio Health Department's Division of Communicable Diseases, said that although several other types of the disease do occur in Ohio from time to time, the state's climate and geography are not suited for the particular birds and mosquitoes which act as prime carriers.

The disease, sometimes called sleeping sickness, causes an inflammation of the brain and nervous system. Bashe said the Health Department had received no official report on the death of a 7-year-old Youngstown girl on Aug. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fetty, the girl's parents, quoted the family doctor as saying he was uncertain of the type.

'62 Steel Output Expected Below 100 Million Tons

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel production this year again is expected to miss the 100 million-ton mark, the Iron Age said today.

The metalworking trade publication predicted that U.S. production would fall between the 98 million tons of 1961 and the 99.3 million tons of 1960.

It said the principal factor in the forecast is prolonged inventory liquidation following the steel labor settlement.

If 100 million tons is to be reached, inventory liquidation would have to end soon, and production in the fourth quarter would have to improve at a progressive rate of one million tons a month.

Iron Age said indications are that October is not likely to show that rate of recovery.

Stick To Economy Estimate

Businessmen Also Take Market Break In Stride

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen are joining consumers in taking the stock market break in stride and sticking to their earlier estimate of the course of the economy.

Individual companies have been spending this year, but industry as a whole is set now to put out just as many dollars this year as it was in February before the government clash with Big Steel or in May before the stock market break.

The Department of Commerce says its August survey shows spending this year is planned at $37.2 billion. This is up 8 per cent from last year and tops the previous record of $36.96 billion in 1957.

All of this is fine, except—

At the start of the year the government had counted on a percentage increase of twice that amount. It built its federal budget around tax receipts tuned to that, and to a greater gain in consumer spending than materialized, although this too is ahead of 1961. And it counted on these increases to provide the economic growth that would whittle the jobless total below 5 per cent of the total labor force.

That hope vanished some time back. But today the government, business executives, and stock traders are taking comfort from two facts—consumer spending did advance, if not as much as hoped, and neither all the talk about the government clash with business in April over a short-lived steel price increase, nor the bad stock market breaks in May and June have changed business spending plans for expansion.

Most such plans are made on a long-range basis anyway. They reflect business estimates of the course of the economy—and more particularly the future prospects of their own company—over a number of years.

Only part of this year's spending may be to enlarge a plant, build a new one, or modernize an old one, with the idea of reaping immediate profits.

But the hope for eventual profit gains are definitely there—along with the expectation of greater economic growth, whenever it may come.

Economists were watching to see if the big drop in stock prices in late spring would trim business spending plans. The department's August survey gives no clue to business executive's thinking along this line. It merely reveals that as yet the totals, as apart from individual companies' plans, haven't changed.

Another influence, the strength of which is in question, is the liberalized depreciation write-off allowances for tax purposes announced the Treasury in July. The idea was that this should stimulate expansion because the old rules had become obsolete. There is little in the August survey to show the effect one way or another.

About all that seems to be shown clearly is that business, like the consumer, hasn't panicked into a belief that a big recession is in the making.

Many, in and out of business, look for a turndown—perhaps next year. But more and more are expressing the belief that if it materializes it will be mild and that the basic strength of the economy isn't menaced at this time.

Fatal Ohio Case Not Believed To Be Florida Type

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A recent fatal case of encephalitis in Ohio is not believed to have been the same type which has hit Florida's west coast.

Dr. Winslow Bashe, chief of the Ohio Health Department's Division of Communicable Diseases, said that although several other types of the disease do occur in Ohio from time to time, the state's climate and geography are not suited for the particular birds and mosquitoes which act as prime carriers.

The disease, sometimes called sleeping sickness, causes an inflammation of the brain and nervous system, Bashe said the Health Department had received no official report on the death of a 7-year-old Youngstown girl on Aug. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fetty, the girl's parents, quoted the family doctor as saying he was uncertain of the type.

'62 Steel Output Expected Below 100 Million Tons

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel production this year again is expected to miss the 100 million-ton mark, the Iron Age said today.

The metalworking trade publication predicted that U.S. production would fall between the 98 million tons of 1961 and the 99.3 million tons of 1960.

It said the principal factor in the forecast is prolonged inventory liquidation following the steel labor settlement.

If 100 million tons is to be reached, inventory liquidation would have to end soon, and production in the fourth quarter would have to improve at a progressive rate of one million tons a month.

Iron Age said indications are that October is not likely to show that rate of recovery.

Salineville Driver's Jail Term Suspended

LISBON — Cloyd E. Kreps, 36, of Salineville R.D. received a suspended 30-day jail sentence at a hearing Tuesday before County Judge James L. MacDonald for driving without a valid license. He was fined $50 for this and $5 for speeding.

Three others were fined a total of $12 and costs for speeding and five forfeited bonds totaling $75.

Richard N. Hanna, 18, of Lisbon R. D. 4 and Walter A. Rice, 19, of Lisbon R.D. were each fined $5 and costs each and Robert C. Mauk, 33, of Alliance $2 and costs.

Forfeiting $15 bonds each for speeding were H. O. Campsey, 30, Charleston, W. Va.; Warren J. Currey, 65, of Medina; Paul W. Moss, 34, Geneva; Isaac T. Love, 29, and Nick E. Spevock Jr., 33, both of Cleveland. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Drive Headquarters Opened By Rhodes

CINCINNATI (AP) — Republican gubernatorial nominee James A. Rhodes visited Cincinnati Tuesday to officiate at the opening of his campaign headquarters in a downtown hotel.

He called the DiSalle administration a spoiled child.

"All it does," Rhodes said, "is blame the legislature for its administrative failures and alibi like a spoiled child, crying for more money and more attention," Rhodes said.

Charge Dismissed

SALINEVILLE — A charge of reckless operation against Alice Kepner of Alice St., Lisbon, was dismissed Tuesday at a hearing held by Mayor Stanley Fitch. The woman agreed to pay for damages to a village man's auto, which her car struck Aug. 27.

Junior Editors Quiz on TIME

QUESTION: How was time told aboard ship?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: There were many reasons, aboard oldtime ships, for the crew to know the time of day as it passed. The men were generally divided into two groups or watches named from the two sides of the ship — the "starboard (right hand) watch" and the "larboard (left hand) watch." One of the groups would be on duty while the other was off duty; if everyone was needed at once, like getting up sail or in an emergency, the cry would be "All hands on deck!" A watch would put in four hours of work, and so each four hours also got to be called a "watch". So that the men would know when to go to work and when to knock off, the ship's bell was rung loudly. Each watch began at eight bells, rung like this: ding-ding, ding-ding, ding-ding, ding-ding. Then bells were rung each half hour. If a watch began at noon, 1 bell would mean 12:30 and 2 bells 1 P.M. 1:30 would be ding, ding-ding, (3 bells), 2 P. M. ding-ding, ding-ding (4 bells) and so on until 4 p. m. when another 8 bells would be sounded and another watch would begin.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a glass jar that isn't valuable on which you can ring the bells with a stick. Practice first and then try it out on your family watching the clock to ring your bells at the right time. At eight bells, be sure to sing out "Eight bells and all's well" in good old salt sea fashion.

Crash Hurts Mother, Girl On Route 39

A Salineville area mother and one of her five children who were in her car when it rolled over at least twice on Route 39 west of Salineville Tuesday afternoon were in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Mrs. Geraldine Dorsey, 31, of Salineville R. D. 2 apparently lost control of the 1962 sedan and traveled some 200 feet out of control before the auto overturned, Carroll County sheriff's deputies said today.

Mrs. Dorsey suffered a possible fractured skull and injuries to the right leg and left side.

Betty Dorsey, 3, suffered a cut of the forehead and a possible skull injury.

Treated was Nancy Dorsey, 5, who received abrasions of the back. Also in the auto were Donnis, 2, and James, 10 month old. The father is James Dorsey.

Deputies said Mrs. Dorsey was headed west about a mile out of Salineville at 12:45 p. m. when the auto apparently dropped onto the north berm and she lost control. The car veered across the road and traveled some 200 feet before it rolled over at least two, possibly three times, causing heavy damage to the auto, deputies reported.

The case is still being investigated.

Filipino Touches Off Fire That Kills 20

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—A Filipino who had an argument with his landlady came home and found the door to his room locked.

He set fire to the house. Twenty people died in the blaze.

"I didn't think so many lives would be lost," said Gavino Durado, 48, a commercial photographer, who gave himself up to police Tuesday two days after the fire.

The flashes of fireflies are courtship signals — a means of finding a mate in the darkness.
